

Furries

Written by: Clyda M Taylor

Furries, an interesting group they are. They can be seen from afar, some can't even drive a car.

They wear costumes of animals, from foxes in boxes to mice on ice nothing is out of the loom for furries.

Some furries eat ethnic curries, Others drink blueberry slurries.

Some find it weird
Some find it kinky From lions with beards to linky deer there's many things to see and many things to be.

One thing we all know for sure no one knows where furries began some say the 60s others say the 80s but some say they've been around since logs, others say Egyptian gods, no one will ever know

Now before you hurry to spread hate, you took the bait for the man in the mouse suit at Disneyland could be a furry too
