

Part 3: Avenger

-Sky hissed slightly still not able to balance himself, cursed then came to his decision - "damn this wings..."-Gabriel blinked as he turned to Sky, he had his attention on another matter of trying to escape- "What is it young one?" -Sky turned then thought for a moment-"that hole you are making...let me through it" -Gabriel blinked- "you aren't small enough"

-Sky nodded slowly, then motioned to the ones who had their wings removed. Gabriel slowly frowned- "that is too much for to handle young one..that pain would" -Sky grunted and broke in- "WE don't have time to argue over this...I am no use to use with them anyway" -Sky moved up to the older angel frowning-"Make it quick..."

-Gabriel frowned turned into a scowl, he motioned to two of the larger angels to come over-"hold him tightly..." -Sky let off a sigh then turned, one of them brought over something to bite down onto. Sky winced then braced himself as he felt Gabriels hand on the joint at the point on his back- "be brave..." -with a sickening crack Sky world blurred, lucky he passed out from the pain before Gabriel broke off the other wing-

Minutes later they managed to wake Sky-"come on now young one, we haven't much time" -Sky winced then looked at the back of the room they were in, the hole was just large enough for him to fit through- "w...wish me luck.." -he said still dazed from the pain- "be careful, if they catch you they will...put an end to your existence" -Sky blinked- "what do you mean? I am already dead"

-Gabriel nodded- "your spirit comes up here to Heaven.. or Hell...but if you are lost up here, there will be no way to recover your soul..." -SKY nodded- "one way trip..got it...wish me luck.." -Sky looked around quickly then slipped out-"Hide his wings...they might be back soon, and cover up the escape hole..."

B-man stepped out from the portal feeling rather giddy, the echo of Wolfs laughter lingered for a moment before stopping-"Great.. not where did that bastard put me?..-he paused as he noticed he was standing on clouds?- "what in the?.."

-his eyes widened slightly as he turned around, he could see beyond the vanishing portal the earth far below as if he was in space and yet he could breath normally-"...where am I?..."-he turned back as his eyes finally came back into proper focus, but his body had other ideas. trying to move up the stairway he saw before him he staggered about, noticing a set of gates before him he did his best to force his body to move in the direction he wanted-

"what the hell happened here?...-the white clouds around them were darkening by the minute it seemed, with another effort he moved up to the fallen gates then looked around he could feel Wolfs life force further away. He moved down the next series of steps moving his arms and upper body to regain control-"Where are you?..."

-a voice spoke in his head for a moment- "not so far away...you are getting closer all the time..." B-man stared ahead fists clenched, the nightmare that was played out would soon end. One way or another-"There he is!" -B-man turned his attention tot he left, as some demons dressed in the same sort armour rushed out to attack him-

"Fine..." -B-man went into a run straight for the demons, elsewhere Sky could hear the death screams of demons. "Hmm?" -tail twitching he ran towards the sound of fighting, as he got closer he could hear something else, blood spraying?-"Warn Lord WAAAHHH!" -as Sky rounded a corner a demons erupting body slammed into a wall, Sky recoiled in shock as the remains burst then vaporized into multi coloured energy-

-Only one demon was left, the leader of the group that had attacked him.-"... w.. what are you?!"-B-Man kicked away at a body part of a demon whom had just erupted into a shower of red and white energy from the "Tengoku-Ken" technique, something made up just to fight demons-

"Never mind that where is Wolf?!"-the demon staggered back then attacked out of desperation, B-man quickly snap kicked the demon in the face causing something to break-"Where is he?!"-B-man grabbed the demon by the neck as blood and tears ran down the demons red skinned face, he turned back as he heard some rubble fall only to see the last person he would never expect-

Sky called out in shock- "B?!"-B-man blinked- "Sky?!"-the demon grunted and tried to attack but B-man snapped it's neck before it ever had a chance. B-man got up as Sky ran towards him, but now? He couldn't sense his friends presence at all, and yet.-"OUF!"-Sky pounced B-man down like when they were children but both shouted at the same time-

"I THOUGHT YOU WERE DEAD!" -Then Sky smiled broadly- " I knew you were alive!" -B-man grunted- "Sky get off me already, more demons might be coming" -Sky snapped out of it then helped his friend up- "What the hell was that attack?" -B-man was about to answer when he paused and went on to more pressing matters- "never mind about that, Wolf is getting closer"

-he was about to say something else when he noticed the ground seemed to be phasing, as some objects were appearing and disappearing. "what in the world?..."-Sky turned his attention in the direction his friend was looking, then gasped- "A skyscraper? in heaven?" -B-man blinked then looked at Sky- "This is heaven? -Sky nodded slowly- "well, never mind that now B. Wolf is up to something I am not sure what but...I can't use any of my abilities here."

B-man blinked- "what do you mean? -B-man paused then looked over at a dome like building, a figure was atop of it.- "B, Wolf has a crystal that saps all kinds of..." -Sky was going to say something else when he noticed white energy rise off B-mans body- "you...you can use your Chi?" -B-man looked at Sky- "Yeah why?" -Sky looked back feeling Wolfs life force-

B-man turned and began to walk towards Wolfs location- "B...I...uhh...I won't be able to help you this time..." -B-man looked at his friend, tears were welling up in the nekos eyes- "Just, don't die...if you do then you can't come to heaven or even go down to hell even..." -B-man blinked as Sky suddenly hugged him- "I...I don't want to loose you like I did everyone else." -B-man put his hands on Sky's shoulders, then moved back-

"This is bigger than both of us...by the way Wolf used Shadow to kill everyone in the kingdom" -Sky tried to blink the tears away but it didn't help, slowly he nodded then moved back. The Full understanding of what was about to happen came into focus. "Give him a beating B...for all of us" -B-man nodded then motioned over to a spot- "you'd better take cover...This is going to be a rough one"

-Wolfs voice suddenly boomed- "Are we going to get this over with? Or do you plan on already pleading for your life?" -B-man turned to face Wolf who was now standing atop a fountain, Sky slipped back feeling as if his soul was being tortured - "First Sifu...then Night. Then Sky and everyone in the Kingdom..." -Wolf shrugged- "if you want to know why I did it then~

-Bman snapped cutting Wolf off mid sentence- "I Don't care!..." -dark clouds started to swirl, Sky winced slightly as he could feel the energy building between the two. There was something else and he couldn't put this finger on it, for a brief moment it felt like Wolf was trying to stall-

"Oh, very well then..." -B-man took his fighting stance, white energy started to rise off his body. Wolf couldn't help but become amused, why had the crystal not worked on this mortal?- "B...please don't do anything stupid" -Sky thought to himself, the smell of ozone filling the air, the dark clouds swirled around as if threatening to unleash a tornado-

-there was a brilliant flash of light from the clouds, followed up with a tremendous arc of energy that slammed into the cloud like ground between B-man and Wolf- "SHIPUU-KAYKU!" -Wolf was barely able to block the first kick, followed up by the second mid air round house that sent him to the ground tumbling. Wolf rolled back onto his feet as B-man ran towards him, their forearms collided as they blocked at the same time-

"Defying me at point is useless!" -Wolf roared out, At first things seemed evenly matched for the two fighters, Sky cursed under his breath at being so helpless. B-man finally moved in- "RAAHSAAOUU!!" -Wolf blinked as the human vanished in front of him, wind blew into his muzzle then stopped. Quickly he turned back just watching B-man do the same, his nails were a glow.

Sky blinked in surprise at watching his own attack being used, far better than he could have done. Wolf roared out in anger, the attack had just missed but the deep slashes in the ground were more than proof enough. B-man had gotten far stronger since their last encounter, as B-man tried to attack again Wolf leapt out of the way.

B-man watched as the demon landed atop of a building then followed, Wolf met him head on exchanging attacks.-“You are only delaying your death!” -B-man shifted his weight as Wolf went in for a punch, the angle for the counter was perfect as B-mans fist collided with Wolfs jaw in a perfect cross counter-

Wolf staggered backwards stunned which gave B-man the chance he needed- “YOU’RE DONE! TENGOKU-KEN OUGI!!” -Sky blinked- “What the hell is he doing now?!” -Wolf turned back in time to watch B-mans aura change once again- “Holy energy?! but how?!” -Wolf roared out but B-man struck first in a series of blows to key areas, following up with a back flip kick that sent Wolf through the air and back onto the ground-

-Sky got up- “YEAH! FINISH HIM OFF!” -B-man leapt down then frowned- “you’re already dead” -Wolf got up slowly growling, a few seconds passed...but nothing happened- “what?...but...I hit him in the right...” a slow smile came over Wolfs features- “you hit me right where it counts...and yes it would have killed me...”

B-man winced as Wolf slowly healed up- “IF I WEREN’T POSSESSING A MORTALS BODY!” -the shock shot right through B-mans body, the new fighting art he learned so desperately to gain any edge, it was going to be useless on this demon.- “Just who are you anyway?!” -Wolf grinned- “that will be my secret for the rest of my existence” -B-man grunted then got ready once more- “Fine.. I’ll just have to beat you senseless then!”

-B-man was just about to move when something caught his attention, along with Skys. Several spheres of bright energy were coming towards them, One caught B-man by surprise as it shot past him from behind, then slammed into Wolf who seemed to relish it.- “yes... It is beginning...YES!” -Sky’s eyes widened as he felt Wolfs energy spike- “B! LOOK OUT!!”

B-man jerked back just missing Wolfs claw swipe for his face, but it snagged the left shoulder portion of his uniform- “BURN KNUCKLE!” -

he spun just managing to get Wolf in his sights, the blow was far to quick for B-man to react, he took a full force blow to a stomach that sent him tumbling backwards-

Sky watched on in horror as another sphere of energy was absorbed by Wolf, the blood red eyes bore into B-man who just got up in time to dodge a axe kick- "ZANRETZU-KEN!" -Wolfs head bobbed back and forth quickly then he jerked back missing the uppercut, Wolf growled and unleashed the same attack hitting B-man several times in the upper body then sent him flying back from the uppercut-

-Wolf now fully healed, slowly made his way towards B-man who was having a hard time getting up-"Brandon.. will you ever LEARN!?"-B-man took a full force blow to the face sending him skidding off to the left, he managed to get back up but his vision was blurred- "B! I'M COMING!" -B-man yelled back-"STAY BACK! HE WILL RIP YOU APART!"

-Sky was about to jump over the bit of rubble he was hiding behind when B-man attacked, Wolf raised an eyebrow as the ground under the human started to glow- "Looks fun...mind if I try!" -Wolf growled as the move was being copied- "TATSUMONKI! HADOU!!!"-B-man pushed off going into his tornado attack as Wolf roared out and did the same- "SEMPUKAYK!"

-Two tornados slammed into each other, bio electrical energy sparked and crashed into the twisters. Rubble went flying then B-man followed being ejected from the tornado, he hit the ground hard and skidded face first causing the uniform to shred along his knees- "oh.. man...s... so thats what my attack feels like.." -B-man winced then rose up slowly only to see a few more spheres of energy enter Wolfs body-

-Wolf smiled- "It's over, You put up a good fight but...-the ground in heaven shuddered as the dimensions started to shift again this time it seemed for the worst, Wolf grinned as he continued-"It was all for nothing!" -B-man grunting barely able to stand, he couldn't let it end like this.-"No it wasn't!"

-Wolf grinned then kicked off charging towards B-man, with a final effort B-man yelled at the top of his lungs- "KAAAAAAY!"-B-man's body tensed as his muscles strained against the torn fabric of his uniform, the demon could feel the rising energy for a brief moment-

"OOOH!"-Wolf roared out just about to strike, but was forced back at the sudden force and increase of B-mans energy-"KEEEEEEN!" -Wolf blocked as he slid backwards as the crimson coloured aura engulfed the humans body, Wolf looked through his fingers- "A DEMONIC TECHNIQUE?! HOW DID YOU~"

-Wolf stopped in mid sentence, he shouldn't have been surprised. Wolf watched B-man cross his arms for a brief moment before yelling at the top of his lungs- "CHOU!" -Wolf lowered his arm knowing what the human was about to do, and with the amount of power B-man was putting out he couldn't stop him-

"KYO-KUGEN OUGI!! -The deep crimson aura intensified as B-man pushed off going into his attack-"NAIL HIM!"-Sky yelled out, from what the Neko could tell all of B-mans abilities had gone up by more than a factor of three.- "MORTAL PILE OF"-Wolf never finished what he was saying as the first of the attack started, a fury of left handed punches collided with the demons upper body and face, followed up by a right uppercut that sent him back into a wall-

Wolf couldn't believe the strength and speed increase, he was just about to try and counter when he was hit again. B-mans right leg shot up hitting the left side of Wolfs face, then the right following up with another fury of kicks that started to lift Wolf up off the ground- "He will tear me apart" -Wolfs mind scrambled to try and think of what to do, it was too late as a left kick finished off that part of the attack-

-the wall behind Wolf smashed to bits from the force of the impact, it wasn't over yet as he could here the "Burst" of energy as B-man followed up- "come on B!"-Sky cheered on in his mind as his friend continued to attack, blow after blow, punching and kicking at key areas that Wolf felt down to the bone-

-Wolf slumped forward only to get the first of the rising uppercuts to his jaw which slammed it shut, the second was lower down starting at his stomach which went up to his jaw. B-man spiralled upwards as Wolf flew back out of control- "HAOU!" -as B-man fell in mid air he cupped his hands to his right side, the bright blue energy changed colour to yellow as it was compressed over five times as he landed-

Wolf just got up as B-man fired- "SHOU-KOU-KEN!" -The wall of bright yellow energy over three metres in diameter rocketed towards Wolf, the demon held his hands out to stop it- "THIS IS NOTHING!" -the resulting multi explosion was deafening, the recoil threw B-man backwards several feet before he stopped and fell onto his behind a gasp-

-Sky blocked the bits and pieces of rubble that flew towards him, he looked up as there was a smell of burn't flesh next. The dust cloud settled as Wolf staggered out, both of his arms from mid bicep down had been completely blown off, bits of flesh and shattered bone dangled- "YOU!...YOU!! WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TO ME!?"

-B-man winced- "damnit..." -he could feel his body protesting as he forced himself up, to make it worse he could see more of the spheres of energy coming closer. This had to end and quickly, the dimensions were almost done combining- "I can't let this go on!!" -he screamed in his mind as he forced his body to move towards the terrified demon, Gabriel and few other angels met up with Sky- "WHAT IN THE NAME OF"

Sky shouted- "B! WHAT'S WRONG?! FINISH HIM!" -Gabriel blinked then looked over at B-man- "your friend?" -Sky looked on starting to panic- "It's almost over!" -Wolf growled barely able to stand or move as B-man charged one last time- "ITCH GENKI!~" -B-man's right fist became a glow of bright blue energy-

-Wolf roared out as his eyes became a glow as two beams of energy shot straight for B-man, it was too late for him- "SAAAAATS!" -B-man knelt down under the beams, one shot down his back as he raised up hitting Wolf full force the chest sending him flying upwards in a roar of pure pain- "B!" -Sky shouted as the ground under his friend gave way, just as Wolf exploded into a brilliant ball of white light-

-Spheres of energy shot down re-entering the angels who were around the fight area first, Sky gasped as his wings sprouted on their own- "B?!" -He looked in shock as the ground just gave way under his friend who now started to fall back to earth, Sky leapt forth already taking flight as if it were second nature as he swooped down and caught his friend- 'B! Answer me!" -B-man looked up at his friend, he smiled then mercifully passed out-
