

"B....B!....BRANDON!" -B-man awoke in shock at his voice being called, then looked around in a panic- "WOLF?!" -he paused for a moment as his body protested for a moment then relaxed, he was in a bedroom in a large bed all by himself- ".w...where am?"...-he looked at himself then around the room once more-

-it seemed familiar, but off at the same time- "Hello?" -he called out a few times before swinging his legs out of bed, he opened the closet slowly seeing several white T-shirts, blue jeans, his usual boxers and white socks as well. Slowly he put a fresh change of cloths on before leaving the room slightly- "Hello?"

"Is anybody here?" -he looked to the left noticing a door towards what looked like a deck, ahead of him was a open door to a bathroom. "hmm..."-he looked to the right seeing the kitchen straight ahead, moving out slowly he looked left and right again, it was almost like his Sifu's Dojo.- "welcome back to the land of the living B..." -B-man turning seeing his friend Sky-

"W.. What happened to Argh.." -Sky rushed over and stopped his friend from moving to quickly, then checked the visible bandages- "easy there B, you are still pretty beat up..." -B-man winced- "w.. Wolf what happened?" -Sky smiled as he helped his friend to the main entrance- "it's alright B, We won...you won.." -B-man blinked as his eyes adjusted to the light-

"Y...you had the Dojo rebuilt?" -Sky smiled- "yeah... think of it as a gift from heaven...and me..." -B-man smiled slowly as he stepped out off the porch onto the grass, his shoes squeaking slightly from the morning dew- "Wow...right by the lake as well.." -he looked from left to right, then turned to his friend-

"Down there are the gave markers where you left them" -B-man nodded then turned to his friend-"Finally we will be able to get back to normal huh?" -Sky smiled sadly as he motioned for his friend to walk with him- "Uh...B, about that" -B-man blinked then stopped a few feet away from the large maple tree that was by the gave stones- "you... aren't staying...are you"

-Sky turned to B-man slowly- "No, I can't stay..." -B-man looked down slowly, the emotions he held locked away for so long were starting to come out-"...so..it...it wasn't a dream...you really are..." -he choked up slightly as Sky walked over- "yup, a full fledged angel now" -B-man looked down to the right slightly- "So..this is really goodbye isn't it?" - Sky moved to his friends side and put his arm around his shoulder, slowly he moved B-man over to a cave entrance-"in there is something else, the Mystic waters."-B-man blinked- "Mystic waters?" -Sky nodded slowly- "long story B, basically it is a way for Angels to come to earth..."

B-man blinked- "so, I can come and see you?" -Sky shook his head- "heaven is a real mess right now B, I...may not be able to see you for a long time" -B-man nodded slowly then turned back to the cave site, he moved slowly towards it as Sky stayed back- "So...This is goodbye..." - Sky smiled sadly- "You won't be alone, I'm your guardian angel" -B-man chuckled some-

"The day I need you to be my guardian angel is...is..."-he choked up again, Sky's body slowly became covered in glittering white light- "The Prize money is yours now..."-B-man turned back tearing welling up again, Sky had his wings spread out wide as a full shaft of light covered him- "I Don't want to see you up there for a few decades B, got that?" -B-man nodded- "I'll do my best"

-With that Sky leapt into the air then flew up towards the light back into Heaven, B-man watched his friend vanish then turned back to look at the sunrise- "...good bye..." -he turned to the tombstones of his Sifu, and Night-"no...I won't be alone...my family is all here with me now.." -he looked over to the water fall and made his way up it-

-B-man couldn't help but look at the sky once more, then to the water below-"...yatta.." -his body trembled as the emotions finally let loose, thrusting his arms up into the air with tears streamed down his face as he yelled out in joy- "YAAAAAATTAAAAAAA!!!!!!"

-Two anthro wolves were making their way back to their camp when one heard the voice- "Hmm?" -the larger a black and white male blinked- "what is it Silver?" -Silver a grey wolf female paused- "I... thought I heard someone...That way Primal"-She pointed in one direction- " Oh come on Sis, lets get back to gathering... hey.. Hey wait!" -Silver was already moving off in the direction, she may have been blind but something was calling her - "Silver hang on a second!"
