It have been three year. Ya three year! After high school, he went with his family to Flamen City and he haven't come back since then. My name is Kul the Lucario. For now, I study in Spring University in Hightown. Yesterday, I got a message from him. It said that This Valentine he will be back to this town and asked me to wait him at our old place where we first time meet. Yeah! That place. How can I forget?

Back to the time we in High School, Dan is stubborn Charmeleon, he always fighting and get into trouble. Everyday when he go in class, he always sit in the back and never talk to anyone. At first, I same as everyone never notice him and stay as far as possible. One day, one desterny day, I meet him there. 14TH February, after school I go to the mountain near school to get some fresh air. Like usual, I hadn't got any chocolate in this day. I didn't care much about this, It just so disturbing when everyone mocking me like I am a freak and should exist. It not take long when reach to the top. And that when I see him. In the light of sunset, his skin is shining and glowing, the wind is blowing, floating in the air is the smell of rose and grass. I standing right behind for a while and start to ask him:

_Hey, so this is where your go when you alone!- I ask.

_Whoa, W-what are you doing here? Are you spying me?- In shock he turn back ask with the embarrassed face.

_Whoa,whoa, easy I always come here two or three time a week, I not like I spying on you!- I try to explain to him.

Then two of us sit down and view whore town in sun set. The yellow warn light cover all over the town and on both of us.

_So you don't like to talk with anyone, do you?-I continous ask him

_No, I don't. Everyone in class, they are so anoying. Everyday, they said the same thing: "how is your day?","where we go after school?" or "Wanna go to see the movie?". All that word make me boring, so I don't want to talk with them.- He answer me with sad and lonely voice. His eye is cover with negative forge and sadness.

_Uhm, you still not answer me yet! Is this where you come when you alone?- I look at him and ask.

_None! It just when I come here I fell peaceful and relax no one can tell what I must do and what I don't. From here I can see all the town and the sun.- He reply me with the flash shine in his eye. And you?-he ask.

_Uh, yeah!- he nod his head slightly and stay silent.

I and he stay like that and keep watch the sun. After that day, I start talk to him everyday. Sometime he laugh with the word I said with no reason. Just like that I know him better little by little.
