

There was this boy called Zack and he loved playing games and his favourite game to play is Pokémon Omega Ruby. The one Pokémon that he always tries to catch when he plays it is Aggron because it looks awesome. While Zack was playing it, he was on route 9 and as he was going through the tall grass, he found a Aggron.

Zack said "Finally, I found one!"

So Zack sent out his Combusken and started fighting the Aggron

Combusken used Flamethrower, it was super effective

Aggron used Metal claw, it was not very effective

Combusken used Flamethrower, it was super effective

Aggron used Hardened, Aggron's defense increased

Aggron's health bar was in the red zone so Zack went onto items and used a Pokéball but the Aggron escaped it but then it fled.

Zack said "AW COME ON!"

Just as Zack was about to turn the game off without saving, he heard a mysterious voice nearby say "come to me".

Zack said "who's there?"

The mysterious voice kept repeating "come to me"

Since Zack was not getting any answers, he decided to go and follow the voice to hopefully get some answers. Zack got his shoes and keys then he walked out of the door and locked it so nobody could get into his house. Then the voice led him to a hole in the park and Zack looked in but the edge broke and he was falling down the hole.

Zack finally woke up and found himself in a cave.

Zack said "where am I?"

Then in front of him. he spotted something that appears to be a pedestal and there appears to be a skull on it.

Zack said "why is there a skull here?"

Behind the skull there was some text so Zack decided to go ahead and read it.

This skull once belonged to a ferocious beast that said to have skin of steel but nobody knows who the beast is. Some say claims an entire mountain as its own territory and it mercilessly beats up anything that violates its environment. Its iron horns grow longer a little at a time and they are used to determine the age also the gouges in its armor are worn with pride as mementos from battles. Also legend has it whoever wears the iron skull will gain all knowledge of the beast and know what is it.

After reading all of this Zack decided to put it on so he could find out what the beast is and to know everything about it. Then Zack put it on and it felt really heavy but he was not gaining anymore information on the beast.

Then Zack felt a strange pain in his his so he decided to have a look at it and he was shocked to seeing only three fingers and it was the same on his other hand.

Zack said "WHAT ON EARTH IS HAPPENING TO ME?!"

Zack tried to take the skull off but it was not coming off then he noticed his fingers were now becoming claws. his hands were now turning grey and becoming a sideways oval shape as Zack was screaming in serious pain. Zack then walked towards the place where he fell down and tried to call for help by shouting "HELP!" but nobody came. Then the reast of his arms turned grey now and there was something white around his elbow grey bits were forming. They were connected from the white bit to the back of his arm and the same happened on the other side of his arm. Big grey spheres formed on his shoulder and a rectangle were rising up from them also his arms got bulkier and now his arms are done.

Zack was looking at his new arms trying to figure out what he was turning into but does not know what.

Zack said "what am I turning into?"

Then Zack started to feel pain in his legs as they were moving further apart and he noticed that he now had three toes on each foot.

Zack said "NOW IT'S HAPPENING TO MY FEET!"

Then his feet were turning grey as they were now becoming an upwards oval shape and his feet were also claws now. Then the rest of his legs were becoming grey just like what happened to his arms and there was something white around his knee. Then something grey formed connecting from the white bit and the front top of his foot just like his arms. Then his legs now got a little bit shorter and a whole lot bulkier letting him stand up with the skull on his head.

Zack still could not figure out what he was turning into but all of a sudden his whole torso was turning grey now. More grey bits were forming and one went around under his neck, another went around his waist and under it. Plus there were also grey bits connecting the other tow grey bits and now his belly was getting more bulkier.

Zack said "I think I know what I'm becoming but I quite can't put my finger on it"

Zack said "what's happening now?"

A huge grey tail just busted out and there were grey bits forming around certain parts of his brand new tail.

Zack just realised what he was becoming.

Zack said "I'm becoming an Aggron"

Zack then suddenly changed from being scared and unhappy to being happy since Aggron is his all most favourite Pokémon.

Now the finale part of his transformation is happening.

the rest of his skin that's visible is turning grey and two big horns formed from the two big holes in the skull. Then his head merged with the skull making the skull his new skin and his eyes moved to sides of his head to fit in the holes as they turned blue. Now his organs and bones moved about and changed position making his transformation 100% complete. Zack said "Aggron (this is AWESOME!)"

Zack then had a look around his new home and decided to live here.

Then he went to check if the hole was still there and it was not, all that was left were some small cracks to let the light in. He had a look behind him to find both the text and pedestal are gone so it's now just a hole underground.

Zack had a look through the cracks to see that there is no light coming through which means it night time.

Zack said "Aggron (looks like it's time to go to sleep)"

Then Zack went to the back of the hole and went to sleep also spent the rest of his life as a Aggron living down in a hole.
