

It was only a week before Halloween and Josh was on a plane heading home to America for Halloween with his family.

Josh said "I can't wait to see my family"

Josh looked outside the plane window to see that it was night time and he also realised that he was the only person on the plane.

Josh "Why am I the only person here?"

Flight attendant "we are experiencing turbulence"

The plane was shaking and spinning like it is in some sort of hurricane and then fell down as it crash landed. Josh got out of the plane as he survived but when he looked at the plane, it was wrecked and the crew died.

Josh said "good thing I survived"

Then he decided to see where he was and the only thing he could see was some sort of abandoned mansion.

Josh said "Where am I?"

Josh said "I better explore this place"

So Josh walked over to the mansion and opened the enormous mansion and the foyer still looked in great condition.

Josh said "Anyone home?"

There was no reply so Josh continued to explore the mansion and started looking on the left side of the mansion. So, Josh opened the door and walked through the corridor to open the other door and find a medieval room.

Josh said "whoever lives here sure does like medieval stuff"

Josh then continued to explore the place and continued up to find another corridor and door which lead to a ice age room.

Josh said "this is just to cold for me"

Josh walked straight out of the room continued down the hallway to find another door which lead to a ancient Egypt place.

Josh said "HOW ON EARTH DID THEY AFFORD THIS ROOM?!!!!"

Josh walked out with a confused look on his face as he entered one more corridor and found a jungle room.

Josh said "the owners sure must like plants"

Josh left the room and walked through the hallway just to end up in the foyer once again so he just went in a circle.

Josh said "well I better find the second floor"

Josh looked around again and eventually found a bigger room and this one had a statue with some spiral staircase.

Josh said "better head up"

Josh walked up the stairs and ended up on the right side of the room and continued to explore that part. So he did and found a pirate room with a pirate ship hanging out of the wall and a small room with a bookshelf.

Josh said "well that was weird"

Josh said "Now how am I gonna get to the other side?"

Josh then walked down the stairs to have a closer look at them and found a weird looking wooden steering wheel.

Josh said "this should do it"

Josh turned it around till the stairs led to the left side of the room and Josh walked all the way back up to the second floor. On the right side, there was a space themed room and a Greek themed room and Josh walked straight out of both.

Josh said "this mansion is just straight up weird"

Josh spotted another part of the mansion so he walked down to turn the stairs and head back up the stairs.

Josh said "this is it"

Josh opened the door to see a balcony with a golden smile statue and there was a crown on the floor with a purple gem.

Josh said "Why is this crown here?"

He picked up the and decided to try it on since nobody was around and then when he did, he started to hear a voice

"looks like there is a new one" the voice said

"who are you?" Josh asked

"you don't need to know that my dear boy"

"why won't I need to know your name?" Josh asked the voice again

"let say that your body will become mine in a little while" the voice said

"what?!" Josh said in shock

"I am going to take control of your body and make it mine" the voice said in a sinister voice

"oh no you will not" Josh said in refusal

After hearing what the voice said about taking control of his body, Josh decided to take the cursed crown off of his head.

"STOP!" the voice shouted

All of a sudden, Josh just stop and had his arms down his side and that is not all, he can not even move now.

"I won't let you stop me" the voice said

"I can't move" Josh said in his head

"now let us begin" the voice said

"please don't" Josh asked the voice

"with my magic, turn this mere body into mine and let me take full control for all eternity" the voice said.

Then suddenly, Josh's clothes were starting to turn to air and fade away leaving him with nothing to wear.

"my clothes" Josh said in fright

"they were not needed for my body" the voice said

next, Josh,s legs and feet were also starting to turn to air and fade away but Josh has not fallen down on the ground.

"what has just happened" Josh said

"none of your concern my dear boy" the voice said

"but" Josh said

"shush shush shush" the voice said

Then his belly turned completely whit and got a lot rounder, to be exact it was the same shape as a round ball and his insides faded away. Next his arms turned whit as the bones and muscles faded also his arms got a lot shorter and his fingers merged to form what looks like a mere bump. Plus a small trail formed from the back of the bottom part of his belly the only human part left was his head.

"this does not look good" Alex said being frightened

"this looks PERFECT!" the voice said in excitement

Finally his head turned white as it merged into his belly leaving his face on the front of it and his skin became ghost like. His mouth got bigger has he lost all his teeth but gain sharp fangs on the top row also his tongue got bigger and became blue. Then his eyes turned pink as two downward curves formed above them leaving a shadow around his eyes and the crown rested on top.

"looks like this is goodbye my boy" the voice said

"what do you mean?" Josh said

"I will remove you and take over this magnificent body" the voice said

"please don't" Josh said in despair

"I must thank you for all you have done" the voice said

"NOOOOOOOOO!" Josh screamed

But Josh was too late as all of his memories were slowly fading away and the voice inserted his and obtained full control of the body.

the voice said "King Boo is back"

A whole bunch of boos appeared.

Boo 1 said "welcome back your Majesty"

Boo 2 said "glad your back"

Boo 3 said "we missed you"

King Boo said "glad to be back"

all Boos said "What are we gonna do?"

King Boo said "Let take control of Ever shade Valley"

all Boos said "YEAH!"

Josh spent his life as King Boo and went off take control of Ever shade Valley and did so by destroying the dark moon.
