

Lyssa sighed, She was bored out of here mind over here. The bed and mattress store she worked in had had a slow day looking around what few employees there were were similarly bored as well the lioness flicked her tail waiting and staring absentmindedly at the clock watching seconds tick by as her mind got distracted by idle thoughts, and warm unbearable itch in her loins...

RING

That is until she heard the tell-tale sign of a customer walking in. As she shook herself out of her idle thought she looked up, her ears perking in interest and what she saw walking through the door interested her immensely. The customer was a dragon, a tall somewhat imposing figure, green scales showing and reflecting very nicely in the light of the store. The dragon looked well built and muscular so it seemed like a good thing that he had elected to not wear any type of shirt considering that any shirt would have a fair chance of ripping; and looking down at the shorts that he's wearing she guessed that they'd soon meet the same fate.

"Hmm, miss?" The dragon asked as she then looked up to face him as she straightened herself out.

"Ah, hello there sir, may I ask your name and what you need help with?" Lyssa asked curiously trying to keep her more indecent thoughts in her head

"Darius, I'm looking for a new mattress, the one i have got a bit worn out and uncomfortable after a while" Darius replied looking over the lioness as she fidgeted a bit picturing how exactly a mattress could get worn out in the presence of this dragon before nodding

“Alright, right this way sir” she said leading him to the companies supply of mattresses, and while she led him there she notice that the other employees here were asleep or at least feigning sleep so a brief thought of testing one of the mattresses with him popped in her head but she willed herself to calm down.

'Damn you heat' she cursed mentally looking around gesturing to her assistant Priscill to man the front desk, and the female Rhino agreed as Lyssa showed Darius a few more mattresses before stopping at one the dragon seemed interested in, it was a half-king sized bed, shifting his weight onto it the mattress gave a bit but not too much staying sturdy up until he pushed harder onto the bed, his muscles tensing, making her blush as the mattress began to bend under his straining form, before letting up.

“Sturdy.” He said with a grin looking up at the lioness

“Yes, this is one of our more sturdier models. Built more for durability, though we try to make it as comfortable as possible.” she said trying to keep her thoughts away from how much power was within those muscles, how strong he was and how he could probably-

“Comfortable” Darius said snapping her out of her lewd imaginings only to be shown the dragon lounging atop the bed his topless form laying there as her fingers tapped the side of her thigh as she bit her lip. Oh god how she wanted him right then and there, but she resolved to keep her composure for now. Even if her juices were running down her inner thighs as she spoke.

“Excellent, would you like to see the consumer copy of this model? We happen to have those in stock in the back” she smiled genuinely helping the dragon to his feet as they moved into the back storeroom.

Upon arriving into the blandly she realized a slight problem “sorry about the heat, the air conditioner is busted back here” she said stretching out her shirt's collar fanning herself and even going as far as to unbutton the top buttons of her blouse revealing a good bit of cleavage for him.

Meanwhile Darius could feel the change in temperature and whilst noticing the lioness' occasional glances as well as the smell of more than just her sweat in the air. Though the heat didn't bother him too much he nodded “It is a bit warm in here.” He claimed deciding to give her a little bit more to show he slid off of his shorts as they weren't doing too much concealing anyhow, revealing his jockstrap, showing off his considerable package with a nice tuxedo-like design as he and slid the now discarded outerwear to the side and continued to follow her. Needless to say the lioness didn't miss out on seeing the older dragon strip down to his jockstrap, showing off his considerable muscles on his legs as well as showing the considerable bulge much better, without an extra layer of clothing standing between her and the object of her desire as she continued before stopping after a point looking up

"Ah there it is, Model number 54902" she said looking up but couldn't reach it as she stepped back leaving enough space for the dragon. "Would you mind getting that for me sir? I don't think I can reach it from here." She smiled letting the dragon reaching up as she got a good look at his soft grope-able rear in contrast to the strength contained in those muscles covering his back as she rubbed along the inside of her thigh without thinking she almost reached out to grab at him but she'd let him place down the mattress at least.

As Darius lifted the mattress and bent down to place it on the floor he could feel her eyes staring at him, picturing him in various positions with her. She was in heat and he knew it so as he grabbed the mattress from the shelf and hefted it up he made sure to slowly bend over for her showing off those big hefty and cum-filled balls of his, and finally his own purple-lipped cunt to her not to mention with the raise of his tail his puckered rear would be put in her view. As he then got up he received a good, somewhat moistened grope from the lioness who slowly pulled her hand away from his scaly backside as he then turned to her with a look of mock disapproval as she then stammers

"I'm-um-er, sorry sir"

"Seriously? Going after someone like me?" Darius asked feigning disgust

"I know it's inappropriate sir, I just..don't know what came over me" she said blushing, one hand moving behind her neck the other at her side looking downwards

"Heh, I know what came over you you just couldn't handle seeing all of this. I thought you were an adult" he said coyly though she noticed a lightening of his tone

"Sorry sir, I let my heat get the better of me, it won't happen again." she sad looking back up at him

"OH? You're in heat? Well then now I'm in the wrong" he said laying back onto the bed laying himself out but making sure to show off his considerable bulge "It'd be unfair of me if I left you get all riled up without any form of release. And I do need to test this bed...for quality assurance mind you." he said grinning rubbing at the tip of his cock though the jockstrap's fabric, looking up at her.

Lyssa was now biting her lip, unbuttoning her blouse as she stepped over to him in her lust addled state she leaned down and pulled the jockstrap down and off of him throwing it aside along with her blouse as he looked over the long purple, rod. At it's tip was a small almost triangular point. That repeated down the shaft forming pleasurable ridges until the base of two bulbous orbs of a knot more taller than wide but wider than the shaft regardless. Lyssa showed her exposed topless form to the dragon her C cup breasts pressed up against his balls as she licked along his length from the base of his knot along the pleasurable shaft's underside before licking along it's tip as he smiled dipping with one hand into her own wet, lubricated cunt and with the other dipping into his, enjoying pleasuring both of their organs. As he lifted a scaled hand between the lioness' ears half-petting her, scratching under the golden fur and half pushing her down onto his cock for more than just a lick as she bobbed her head on that pleased cock of his as they both moaned in pleased ecstasy. She continued to suck and lick on that delicious cock of his as she licked along his cock surrounding his cock with a sucking sensation pleasing wit while she rubbed her fingers along the walls of their cunts with long inward strokes along their walls before pulling off his cock suddenly and out of their cunts as she looked up at him "I've needed this so bad." She says standing up and straddling her legs a rubbing her feminine lips along his cock especially against her sensitive clit making her moan and shudder in pleasure. He then lifted her up by her hips pressing his length towards the entrance of her feminine snatch as she purred in pleasure. Lowering herself down onto that impressive cock of his as she groaned feeling him enter that wet tunnel of hers beginning to be able to sate her need, she needed that cock of his. As she moaned aloud she slipped the first two ridges into her as she groaned spreading her legs to make that fat cock of his have an easier time getting in. As Darius eased her downwards onto his cock easing her down the first portion, he then sat up bringing his chest to hers, seeming to effortlessly hold her up. He then smiled coyly at her before giving a good upward thrust grunting as she moaned at the hard forceful thrust as she leaned down, gyrating her hips onto this absolutely wonderful cock of his each ridge pleasing her as she slid deeper and deeper down tongue rolling out from the pleasure she felt. Darius then smiled holding her hips keeping her from taking his knot as she looked up at him curiously "Wh-why'd you stop me?" she asked half drunk off of her lust

Darius looked down at her with a grin "It's going to take a bit more than just gravity to get this thing in." he then indicated his knot, placing a finger on each of it's sides "Let me help with that." She could only nod and see what he would do. The dragon then laid back and held her close as she rolled onto their sides with a smile

“My turn.” he then pulled himself mostly out of her leaving the tip of his cock inside her, before he pushed his way back in forcing half of his cock into her before pulling back again this time going almost to the knot but not quite teasing her with it. Roughly fucking and thrusting his way repeating this pattern continuously, while she moaned and groaned in pleasurable ecstasy moaning loud, pushing and pulling in time with his thrusts. He of course was moaning and grunting along with her using his strength to hold her there while his cock kept up it's job of rubbing and pleasuring her in all the right places. Then he felt it he felt close to cumming into this woman so he then paused pulling back slowly before giving a hard final thrust shoving that knot in, hitting her in the perfect spot making her shudder and cum around her spraying the hilted dick in her girl-cum as he then let his orgasm fill her. That knot of his making sure that not a drop of his cum spilled out as he sprayed her insides cooling her heat with the dragon's cum making her shudder getting exactly what she needed as he pulled her close, the two basking in the pleasurable afterglow.

What the two didn't know is that over by the storeroom entrance a particular rhino girl once needed to get the lioness' attention but instead got a wonderful show and customer to remember. Priscill then shook herself out and took her finger out of her pants she then got up, a little staggered and manned the front desk as though nothing changed.

About fifteen minutes after their romp in the back a fully clothed Lyssa and Darius; who was about as clothed as he came in, carrying his new mattress upon his shoulder

“Alright, will that be everything sir?” Lyssa asked standing by the register, checking out the price tag for the new mattress as she looked up at Darius as he nodded happily

“Alright that will be $115” she said as he handed her two hundreds and she was about to respond before he whispered in her ear “Keep the change. You may need it” he told her before walking out as she printed a receipt and signed it with both her name and her number.

She then replied “call me if you need any customer support” she said smiling as he then walked out giving her a good view of her rear before Priscill tapped her on the shoulder whispering “Soo, who's he?~”

Epilogue

A few months had passed since Lyssa's meeting with Darius and now the season was beginning to pick up so more hands were on deck to man the various stations of the store as she just finished answering the question of a husky a familiar face showed up as she strode up towards him

"Hello again Darius" She smiled looking over those familiar scales and tattoos she smiled

"Welcome back, need anything?"

He smiled looking her over "I'm just looking for some new sheets. How have you been?" he smiled reaching out to pat her pregnant stomach

She smiled looking down "doing alright, and yes it's yours." she smiled sticking out a tongue at him before gesturing over towards the section of sheets "they're over there and for the record my maternity leave begins tomorrow, got any plans?"

Darius just smiled in response to that question thinking of all the things those two could get up to over a break.
