
The enticing lake (Feraligatr TF)

You've been walking through this forest for a while now. So long in fact that every tree is starting to look the same.

You have no idea where you are. So you just pick a direction and continue to walk that way until you find something.

After at least another hour of walking you notice the tree's getting sparser. There must be a clearing nearby!

You get excited and start to run forwards. Eventually reaching a clearing with a huge lake.

This is not what you expected..

You were hoping that this was the way out of the forest...

Still it's finally something else than just tree's.

It's been a long day. The sun is already starting to set. Might as well set up camp here.

So you set up your tent.

After that you gather sticks, stones and kindle for the campfire.

Lighting up your campfire. You keep watching it. Slowly adding more and more sticks until it grows into a nice warm fire that won't go out quickly if you stop tending to it.

You let out a sigh as you sit next to your campfire. Looking at the lake reflecting the night sky.

It looks beautiful. Almost as if the lake is shining.

You think about taking a quick dip into the lake. Maybe relax some of the tension in your body from the journey.

Warming up next to the campfire afterwards.

You shrug. Why not, you deserve some relaxation after today.

So you take off your clothes and walk into the water.

It feels cold, though not cold enough to dissuade you from swimming for a while.

You walk further into the water, swimming forwards when you can no longer stand.

Once you feel like you're far enough. You start to float yourself with your belly up.

You close your eyes. Focusing on the water all around you. It feels relaxing.

Unbeknownst to you.

The water is starting to glow with a faint light. Changing your body to better fit the water.

Your toes merge together into three. Nails growing longer and sharper into three long white claws.

Light blue scales start to grow on your feet.

Growing upwards when they finish covering them.

Your thighs grow wider. A large rectangular plate growing on each knee.

A long reptilian tail grows out from the end of your spine. It's covered in light blue scales. With a thick rectangular plate in the middle.

A red crest with three points grows near the end of it.

You don't notice any of the changes. Too caught up in the relaxing sensation of the water.

Your body grows wider as the light blue scales start to grow on it. Cream scales grow in between your thighs.

In the shape of a V.

Ridges form on your back. More of those thick rectangular plates grow on the sides of your chest.

A red crest with three points grows from one of the ridges on your back. It looks just like the one on your tail. Only slightly bigger.

Your arms and hands change the least. They grow slightly wider. Two thick plates forming on both your upper and lower arm.

Your nails turn into long white claws just like those on your feet.

Only your head remains now.

As the scales reach your head.

Your face pushes out into a large muzzle. Nose shrinking until only two slits remain.

Your new muzzle slowly comes into vision as it grows in. You stare at it for a while confused where it came from.

Your teeth grow sharper and longer.

Three of them on each side grow long enough that they don't fit in your mouth anymore when it's closed.

Cream scales cover the bottom of your new snout as light blue covers the rest of your head.

You try to push away the thing in front of you.

Only for you to actually feel your hand on your muzzle.

Only then do you snap away from your water induced trance.

Your eyes turn yellow in colour. Black markings grow around them.

Two ridges form on top of your eyes.

Lastly another red crest with three points grows between the ridges.

Finishing your change into a Feraligatr.

Only now do you notice that your entire body has changed. How do you react?
