
A Strange Anti Virus (Porygon-Z TF)

You're on your computer, scrolling through social media. Just minding your own business. When suddenly a pop-up appears on your screen. You close it only for another to appear.

Closing that one as well two new pop-ups appear.

Getting frustrated you decide to download an antivirus to get rid of them. Searching the internet for one. It takes some time as you navigate between the pop-ups. You click on the first result in your search engine.

It's called "Porygonz anti viruz".

It has a Porygon-Z as a logo.
It promises to always clear every virus it finds.

'Eh good enough. Not like it'll get any worse.' you think, downloading and installing it.

After installing the antivirus it gives you a prompt to scan your device.

You click on it and almost immediately after your screen starts to flicker and the fans on your computer start to run at full speed.

Shocked you stand up and take a step back. After a couple of seconds it shows no sign of stopping.

So you panic and try to turn it off somehow.

Turning your back to the screen and trying the power button.

Unbeknownst to you something is coming out of your computer screen.

Something light blue coming through.

The power button doesn't seem to work. Maybe you can pull the power plug?
But as you try to pull the plug out of it's socket, you hear someone talk.

"Zzzttt I wouldn't do that if I were you." The voice sounds like a garbled computer.

You turn around and see three Porygon-Z's floating in front of you.

"What? What are you? How did you get here?" You ask them.

"Zzzttt we are Porygon-Zzzzzz. We are here to zzzztttt clean your viruzzzzzzz." One of them explains.

The two that aren't talking start floating around you. Their yellow eyes glowing as they examine you.

"That doesn't explain anything! Stop floating around me!" You yell, trying to push them away.

"Zzzztvt viruzzzzzz detected."

"Viruzzzzzz detected zzzztvt."

"Prozzzzzeeeding with clean-up zzztvt."

"Zzzztvt prozzzzzeeding with clean-up."

The Porygon-Z's float beside the other one. All three of them start looking at you with glowing eyes.

"What are you doing?! I'm not a virus! Stop this!" You exclaim.

"Zzzztvtvt negative."

"Cleanup viruzzzzzz zzzztvtvt."

"Zzzztvtvt clean-up."

They say, they start to float circles around you.

Making it so all you can see is their glowing eyes.

It's getting harder to think and you're starting to feel dizzy.

As the Porygon-Z's continue to circle around you, you start to feel a strange sensation wash over you.

You feel your hands are getting harder to move. As your fingers fuse together.

Turning into round stumps, with the same light blue colour as the Porygon-Z's.

Looking at your hands. You recognize them as the same ones the Porygon-Z's have.

Your eyes go wide open as you realize what they're doing to you.

"Stop it!" you yell.

The Porygon-Z's just continue circling around you. Occasionally saying.

"Zzzztvt cleaning viruzzzzzz."

"Cleaning viruzzzzzz zzztvt."

"Zzzztvtvt cleaning."

Your clothes disappear into numerous blue pixels, as if they're being digitalised away.

Arms turning into an oblong shape, while the light blue creeps up from your hands.

You fall over as your legs merge together. Shrinking into an oblong-like shape as they turn light blue as well.

When you fall your head pops off of your neck. There's no pain, blood or anything and you still feel both your body and your head.

Your thoughts become jumbled and your words start to come out in garbled computer speech.

"N-no! I'm not zzzztvtvt a Porygon-Zzzzzzzzz!"

Your body turns a fushia pink as it shrinks into an oval shape. A light blue ring grows around the middle of your body.

Hair falling out as a small antenna grows from your head.

Your thoughts get assaulted when it grows in.

'Zzzztttt need to clean viruzzzzzz.'

'Am Porygon-Z zzzzzzzztttttt.'

Head growing round and fushia pink, face turning featureless except for your eyes.

Mouth turning into a long round light blue duck-like bill.

Lastly your eyes grow larger. Turning a pale yellow.

You let out a soft "Viruzzzz zzzzttt cleaned." as your changes finish.

Floating upright. The other Porygon-Z's float beside you.

"Viruzzzzz cleaned zzzzttt."

"Zzzzt viruzzzz cleaned."

"ZZzzzttt cleaned."

"Zzzztttt moving towards next target."

"Moving towards next target zzzztttt."

"Next target zzzttt."

"Moving towards zzzzttt next target."

You all say. As all of you go through the computer screen towards the next virus.
