

Teo is a short and squat gecko with sandy freckled scales and jet black stripes adorning his back. His life consisted of working from home as an editor for articles and newspapers and such. His daily routine was spent waking up at 7 a.m. sharp and taking a shower. He then spent his time afterward going through work-related emails and such until he'd compiled his workload for the day. He would then edit and revise for the rest of the day, taking breaks when needed.

After getting through everything, he would then spend the rest of the night watching TV and playing video games. Aside from his workdays, not much else changed during the weekends when he took Saturday's and Sunday's off to meet with family and friends. Though, most of the time he stayed home seeing how he was quite the shut-in.

It wasn't until one Monday morning that his life took a change for better or for worse. He started it as per-usual. Waking at 7 a.m. sharp followed by a shower, but like some mornings he awoke with a bit of morning wood. Teo was averagely sized for a gecko with his short stature. Usually, he would ignore it and just go through his usual routine and it would go away. But while he was in the shower, he realized his boner was beginning to grow painfully erect.

With a sigh, he lathered himself up and got to work. He gasped at how sensitive it was once he had taken hold of it. He started off with slow strokes before speeding up, within a few minutes he came. Teo seethed as he came for an extraordinary amount for someone his size. Once finished, he could only stand there leaning against the shower wall with his face flushed red and shaky legs wobbling from time to time.

Teo wrote this off as just being a bit more pent up than usual. He got out of the shower and went back to his usual schedule. It wasn't long until it happened again. As he was making breakfast, he felt his shorts begin to stiffen. Teo groped himself trying to reposition his cock into a more comfortable position only to flinch as a bolt of pleasure erupted from his crotch.

Teo recoiled before collecting himself at the sudden burst of dopamine running through his brain. With a grumble, he sat through his breakfast ignoring the stiffy between his legs. Digging through his emails via his phone he quickly realized his hard-on wasn't going anywhere anytime soon. Quickly finishing the rest of his breakfast, he trudged his way back into the bathroom.

Booting up a porn site he got to work rubbing another one out. He moaned as his sensitive cock nearly blew the moment he started massaging it. After only a few minutes he was already blowing another near mind-numbing load.

Throughout his day, Teo was stuck in a cycle of needing to cum every hour or so. Releasing himself over and over again. After creaming once more for the sixth hundredth time that day did Teo finally notice something was extremely off. As he sat at his desk without his pants on anymore, he realized his hand no longer wrapped completely around the girth of his cock. Curiously he pulled a ruler from his drawer and placed it against his dick. His usual length had been roughly five to six inches. His jaw nearly dropping to the floor as he inhaled audibly when he found his cock was now a whole ten inches long and thicker as his wrist.

As he kept handling his package he began to grow hard again, adding another few inches to its length. At this point he had given up going to and from the bathroom to release himself. Instead, he just pulled up a separate window on his computer and released himself right then and there. With a rush of enough dopamine to numb any other train of thought. Teo got to work once more, using his second hand this time to massage his balls. Another surprise that was quickly brought to his attention was his balls were definitely larger than before he realized he'd grown. The two large nads were as big as apples, filling his entire palm with just one of his taunt orbs.

Like clockwork, he came only a few minutes after starting. The sound of spooge hitting the underside of his wooden desk with a wet splat. Teo just leaned his head back and groaned as the pleasure numbed the rest of his body for a few seconds. As he sat there with his cock still in hand, he quickly looked down at his package. His eyes grew wide as he watched his cock visibly begin to swell in size and snake further away from his stuffed crotch. Teo shakily raised the ruler back against his length. His dick was now much longer than the foot long ruler he was just using!

Teo's mind began to race as he questioned what the hell was going on. Teo pulled up a new search bar onto his computer and began digging around the internet for any answers. He gulped worriedly of course when everything led to some awful form of cancer that caused your junk to swell up painfully, but none of the articles mentioned the mind-numbing ecstasy he felt every time he came.

As Teo kept digging through the rabbit hole of symptoms of all sorts of diseases that caused one's junk to swell. He jumped when he heard a soft thud from beneath this desk. It had only been about twenty minutes since he last came. With a worried expression, he leaned back his creaking chair. His cock now rock hard once more and pressing into the wooden desk.

With a defeated sigh, Teo quickly got to work once more. He massaged the tip of his dick before quickly stroking the rest of his length like usual. He used both hands to completely wrap around his girth. Merely seconds before he started he felt that mind-numbing pleasure wash over him as his cock began to swell larger in his hands. Pushing his fingers further apart and extending further under the desk. His balls too, began growing visible. They pressed against his thighs before swelling to the size of large cantaloupes in the span of a few seconds.

Teo moaned as he felt his balls grow taunt and his hands nudging them from time to time as he stroked himself. As his growth came to a halt he came again with the force of a water hose. He leaned forward as his body stiffened from the pleasure. His cock spewing like a mini geyser underneath his desk. Teo had grabbed a towel since his last few loads, but as he came, it was becoming apparent he would need a mop for this one!

Shakily he sighed as he came down from his dopamine filled high. He watched with a mixture of awe and fear as his cock swelled more. It grew thicker and longer till it reached just a ways past his knees. His balls followed suit and swelled further, pushing up against his thighs until they were both the size of his head and began to hang off his chair. Teo scooted his seat back as he inspected any damage from his load. Luckily his apartment section had hardwood so cleaning wasn't much of a problem. But he swore that there had to be nearly a gallon's worth of his spunk now sitting underneath his desk.

Teo sat back and contemplated whether he should continue working or consider today a sick day. He looked at the time and figured he could just call it quits for the night while he worked on squaring away the rising problem between his legs.

Over the duration of the evening, Teo had cleaned up most of his mess underneath his desk. His face turning a bit red when he found his spunk to still be warm as he fished out the now soaked towel. Teo also found it rather easy to still walk, even though his knee knocking package weighed heavily on his crotch. He actually enjoyed the feeling of his oversized bits bobbing between his legs.

By the time he was ready for bed, he had spent another few hours sitting at his computer. He had been researching further into his spontaneous junk growing so disproportionately to himself. Surprisingly enough, he ended up uncovering a bit more than he expected this time. Teo read through several articles and studies on this fairly new category of something called "manifestation". Dubbed under the category of hyper-growth, it's a manifestation of someone's body or body parts growing disproportionate to themselves.

With most of his worries reassured by this discovery, Teo felt himself drifting off the longer he tried reading. Eventually, he made his way back to his bed, ignoring the erect boner he had pressed against his chest and stomach as he drifted off to sleep.

Teo awoke that Tuesday morning to a rather precarious situation. The sun rose in through his window and beamed right into his face. Waking him rather quickly. His memory races back to the day before as he could only grimace at the wet feeling underneath him. Slowly he rolled over onto his back. With a wet squish, he was quickly made aware of the massive sausage between his legs and the steadily dripping cum pouring out.

His lengthy cock jutted up from between his legs. Pre oozing from it and slowly drooling down the length of his cock. His balls resting on his legs felt full and were steadily expanding at a slow but visible rate. Teo wanted to avoid flooding his bed any further as he pulled himself from his sticky sheets.

Carefully Teo made his way to the bathroom. He whimpered to himself as he felt the weight of his swollen balls slosh against his legs with every step he took. The steady drip of pre falling to the floor gave Teo a slight feeling of dread for when he would need to clean that up.

Good lord...I think it got bigger. Teo thought to himself as he felt the weight of his rod bobbing back and forth between his legs. It had definitely grown in girth seeing as he couldn't get his fingers to touch with both hands wrapped around it anymore.

Once inside the bathroom, Teo awkwardly lifted his cock up so that it wouldn't hit anything while he lifted the toilet seat lid. He stopped himself midway however when he peered down to his oversized balls. They gave a quiet slosh in response to his concern to overflow.

Taking off his soaked shirt, grimacing as it stuck to his scaly hide. He opened up the shower/bathtub and immediately got to work. He took both hands and started from his tip. He inhaled sharply while he slowly began to glide his hands down his length. Just from eyeballing it, Teo assumed he'd probably grown a whole foot in length while he was asleep. The night before it was just under his chest, but now it stood right up to his neck.

Pre was now flowing in large spurts as Teo had slid his first stroke down his length. His heart already racing from anticipation and from the pleasure igniting through his body. He held his hands at the base of his immense girth. The feeling of his hands squeezing against the fat veins pulsing along his monolithic member was enough to make him keel over in pure ecstasy.

With a will of iron, Teo held himself in place. He took another deep breath before sliding his hands back up his length quickly. He flinched and nearly dropped to the floor as the overload of pleasure coursed through his body. Steadily, Teo began stroking faster, his legs shaking and his eyes shut. He could feel his balls begin to swell and fill faster. The already oversized nuts gargling quietly as they grew larger, filling up and pushing out from any available space between his legs.

Teo wasn't given a warning when his cock began to blow large globs of cum into the shower wall. The pleasure alone ceased all his senses from working properly. He was drunk on dopamine and he wasn't recovering anytime soon. A loud splat could be heard over and over again from his bathroom as Teo painted every inch of his shower a marble white. With each stroke, he came more.

After what felt like hours, Teo finally began to recover from his pleasure-filled high. He refocused his eyes on the massive cock he was still stroking and then to the half-filled bathtub beneath him. He slowed his stroking until he stopped and watched with a pleasure-filled stupor as his loads began to slow down to an ooze.

Teo then fell onto his knees, carefully shifting his large balls from beneath him before sitting back onto his legs. He breathed heavily as he watched with worry his cock begin to swell again. Though it was still hard, it inched its way up from his neck until it was level with his very height. His balls also swelled even larger, they were big enough to reach past his knees and be seen from behind himself.

Teo fell back against his tiled floor until he was laying on the ground. His large and heavier cock rested directly onto his chest. His balls pressing and spilling onto his tail and floor. With a defeated sigh he watched his cock slowly soften and shrink back down his neck and chest until it was resting against his stomach.

Teo spent the rest of his day draining out the bathtub and cleaning his bedroom. He didn't get hard once for the rest of that Tuesday, to which he was thankful for. After he had gotten everything cleaned he spent more time researching the phenomenon of manifestation. His particular manifestation was a fairly uncommon occurrence between most recent manifestations. After doing a fair share of research he found one of his local hospitals was actually trained in this field of biology.

The hospital urged newly manifested to come to the hospital for a check-up. Mostly so that they could register his manifestation and make sure everything transitioned smoothly. Teo's brow furrowed as he pushed his chair back and looked down at his hyper junk. Since his growth, Teo had thrown wearing any sort of undergarment out the door. But if he was to go to the hospital for a check-up, he would need to wear something!

Teo quickly dug through all his clothes trying to find anything that would fit. Most of his pants couldn't even make it over his massive balls. Even with their soft squish they still held firm in staying in the way. His stretchiest sweatpants couldn't contain his meaty schlong. With all his groping and handling, Teo began to once more grow hard.

He watched with a defeated sigh while standing there among a pile of clothes, his cock slowly rising up and extended outward. His heart rate quickening as the feeling of his weighty cock alone was enough to turn him on.

As annoyed as Teo got with having to constantly run to the bathroom every time he got an erection. He certainly wouldn't admit openly that he enjoyed this change. Teo sat over the bathtub once more and began stroking. He whimpered and squirmed as his hands slid casually along his member. The euphoric pleasure bursting through his scaly hide melting him into a moaning mess.

It wasn't long before he almost overfilled his tub. However, this time the pleasure had got to him. His legs felt like jelly, causing him to slump forward and onto his knees. He wrapped his arms around his sensitive girth and whimpered as he milked out every last drop of cream. Teo had to take a much longer rest from the afterglow than any of the previous sessions. His cock no longer grew after he came to his relief. Though it didn't go unnoticed just how big it had gotten in the last few hours it was growing.

Teo reveled in the weight of his towering schlong. It's girth being nearly as wide as his waist. Only a few large veins pulsed along the sides of it and his balls were big enough to see them even from behind. On occasion, Teo could hear his nads gurgle if it were quiet enough.

With a relaxed sigh, Teo smiled to himself. This change wasn't one he had expected in his life. But it would definitely be one he could accept.
