

A Good, Deep Kiss

By: IndigoRho

On a relaxing Saturday evening, Cecil took another sip from his wine glass as he snuggled up on the couch closer to his wolf boyfriend Blaidd. The red deer was fairly inebriated at that point, and the more wine he drank the more love and attention he lavished on Blaidd. Overall the night had been wonderful thus far.

Blaidd smiled as the movie they were watching came to an end, leaning into his boyfriend's shoulder. "That was a really good choice. Do we want to start up on the next one, or should we grab a bite to eat first?"

Cecil's stomach rumbled on cue, practically answering for him. "Food sounds good to me."

"Awesome! Not much left in the fridge, so I'll just order us some takeout," Blaidd pulled out his phone and started browsing his options. "And don't eat the delivery guy this time! We're running out of places willing to deliver here."

The deer laughed. "But they're always the best part of the menu." Cecil teased, giving Blaidd a long kiss after.

Blaidd blushed, finishing their order in the process. "Really funny, honestly..." He was interrupted by another kiss as Cecil began to embrace him lovingly as well.

The kisses were growing more frequent, and Blaidd let himself get so caught up in the moment he didn't realize they were getting a little deeper as well. After a particularly long one, Cecil's lips abruptly stretched over the tip of Blaidd's snout, causing the wolf to open his eyes out of curiosity.

"Kind of a big kiss there, hun," Blaidd mumbled, his nose pelted by the aroma of wine on Cecil's breath.

"It's about to get bigger," Cecil managed, a devious grin on his face.

Blaidd didn't have time to react as Cecil swallowed the rest of his snout, his hug growing just tight enough to prevent his boyfriend from wiggling away. The wolf squirmed a little and tried to protest, though talking with his head inside Cecil's mouth proved daunting. A long, strong gulp pulled in the rest of his head, drawing Blaidd into the deer's throat. Cecil's jaws stretched across Blaidd's shoulders as he steadily began to swallow him whole. His thin hoodie was unzipped inch-by-inch as the bulge of Blaidd traveled down the gullet and into his stomach, causing his large belly to swell out even more.

Cecil remained relatively gentle with the wolf as he ate him, even giving him back and belly rubs in between gulps. While thoughtful, the massages didn't necessarily counteract the fact he was consuming him. The deer's gut wobbled and spread over his lap as it filled with frustrated boyfriend, Cecil happily patting it with a free hoof whenever possible. Once Blaidd's chubby waist had passed Cecil's lips the deer carefully angled his head upward, letting gravity aid in his gluttony. Blaidd's flailing legs were pinned together as they were gulped down, vanishing down the deer's throat swiftly. Soon only the wolf's footpaws remained, and they too were eagerly swallowed.

Cecil rubbed his distended gut with both hooves as the last of Blaidd emptied into it, delighting in its size.

Blaidd, on the other hand, was far less amused. "Cecil, you're not supposed to kiss that deep!" he chastised.

"But hun, it's the easiest way to kiss you all over," Cecil giggled as his belly wobbled in response.

"Real funny. Let me out, it's cramped and slimy in here!" Blaidd demanded, elbowing the soft stomach walls.

Cecil stretched a little, shifting into a more comfortable position. "If I let you out now I might be tempted to eat the delivery guy when he arrives, it's better if you just hold tight until then."

"I ordered us a ton, and we're on the edge of the place's delivery zone! I don't wanna be belly filler for that long,” Blaidd growled.

“You’ll be fine. Just think of it as a really long hug, hun.” Cecil smiled, nuzzling his bulging gut.

Blaidd quickly realized complaining wasn’t going to get him out of his boyfriend’s stomach any sooner, and the wolf grumbled under his breath as he tried to settle in as best he could. Hopefully Cecil wouldn’t just keep him in there all night again like last time. And the time before that. And the time before that. And the time before...
