

Fly Home Little Letter

By Nuallán/Marquís Alastair

(Dedicated to my wonderful little brother.)

A letter written, kissed, and stamped in wax.

A prayer that it will reach you.

Makes a grand journey across sea and tracks.

Will a message of love beseech you.

fly on, little letter, fly down the path home.

And with you carry my love.

The grandfather clock ticks an unending tone.

So fly on, carrier dove.

And through time and fate has divided us.

And though the trek is far.

Someday our dreams will find us.

As we dance among the stars.

So find home, little letter, and please don't terry.

For my message shouldn't be overdue.

With comforting embrace, we will laugh and make merry.

When at last I come home too.
