

Chapter 9: New Wardrobe

Kate slept like a log. The energy of the sexual exertion drained her a lot last night. Not the mention finally releasing all the stress they had been through finally releasing all at once. She wasn't sure what would come next but she had to admit to kind of liking when Lex took charge like he did.

What got Kate to snap back to wakefulness was the feeling of an 'intruder' entering her once again. She looked down and realized what was up. Lex had shrunk down as they slept but not fully and now his morning wood was expanding back into her. With Lex sleeping so cuddled up to Kate, and legs wrapped around her, she couldn't move much.

"Lex? uh Lex! Are you awake?" She called to him squirming.

"MMM" he murmured to himself, "Five more minutes" The large male squirmed a bit in his sleep and inadvertently gave Kate a thrust.

Kate gasped, "Lex I think you should wake up now!"

Lex slowly opened his eyes and surveyed the situation, "Well well. Waking up already in a female like you is quite the good way to wake up if I do say so myself"

"uh.. ya" Kate blushed, "But we should get up"

"Maybe I'm not ready yet" He said and pressed down on her with his legs, holding her tighter and pressing her more firmly onto his half hard member

"Oh my" Kate shuddered a bit, briefly considering submitting again right there before responding, "We were going to get going right? They'll find up if we stay in the same place to long. should. OOH. Should get going."

Lex considered it for a bit, absentmindedly stroking Kates belly and then up to her breasts, "I suppose you're right. Plenty of time later, love" He demigod let go of his lover and stood. his long member pulling free of Kate an eliciting another moan. "Careful making noises like that, Kate" He said, half humorously and half-jokingly, "I may not be able to control myself."

Kate stood and brushed the dirt from her nude body, "You mean you'd just jump me?"

"Well I wouldn't go that far. It would be pretty crass to just 'jump you' as you said. But.."

"But ... I am 'yours' now right?" Kate finished for him. still not fully sure what that entailed.

"yes, you were a good girl last night" He said leaning over to give her a lick on the cheek, "I intend to have repeat performances to say the least. However..."

"'However' Lex?"

"However I am not a master or a slaver. You are mine now, just mine, but I won't be forcing you to do anything."

"So like.. Mates?"

"Something like that" Lex smiled warmly at her and leaned forward giving her a hiss before leaning down farther and giving a breast a lick

Kate shuddered from the attention, and with a deep blush pulled away, "Ok. uh.. we should .like.. pack up camp... I suppose"

"Sure thing, love. We can grab some supplies and carry some water in leather pouches. In case we have to leave the river area. Which we probably will if they have too many guards on the dam upstream."

"Not to mention sneaking past any other travelers. We need to keep you hidden and... well I may have gotten comfortable being nude around you, but I'd attract attention like this. When we get back to your home lady hopefully we can remove that magic blocking collar, or at least some of your friends could make me clothes"

"I know a magicsmith that can do off with this collar as for clothes there should be merchants to spare. Though something more tailored can also be acquired."

"Even more reason to get to your home." Kate starts to breakdown the camp, "we can't carry all of this. what should we do? just leave it?"

"Hmmm... we can place it farther from the river let's say south. And since we are moving north it should throw them off for a bit."

"good Idea." We drag some of the camp supplies down river a bit and dump them. "ok.. now for the long walk I suppose"

Lex nodded and the pair began their trek out to the west, going through the forests bushes and dense trees. With the temperature varying from fresh to humid the trip was arduous early on. Lex's tough fur and skin are fine with it though Kate's current state of undress means that the brambles can pull at her.

"There should be a village on the edge of this forest where we can stock up and rest."

"Stock up?" Kate asked as she trudged along next to Lex, "last I checked we don't have any money and we'd both turn a few heads walking into town. you aren't suggesting we rob them or anything are you?"

"Is that safe?" The collar is cursed after all. can a random smith even remove it if he wanted to?" Kate sounded concerned, "He'd have to take it on faith that we'd pay afterwards. we have no money and you're almost powerless with that collar on"

"Should be safe." Lex asserted confidently, "At least I hope so"

"Ok.. if you say so. where would I be for this? hiding outside of town? can't very well walk in nude"

"There an abandoned row of cabins near the village entrance. You'll hide there"

With at least the start of a plan in place the pair crept along off the roadway towards the abandoned cabins. The smaller Kate was ahead of Lex, who took the opportunity to 'accidentally' poke her tush with his nose.

"Epp" Kate jumped, "not really the time"

"Sorry, can't help it. my female has such a presentable bottom"

Kate's face burned as she quickly turned to hide her blush and put her hands over her butt, eliciting some laughter from Lex

"Can we just hurry?" Kate said and marched off. Lex followed smirking till they reached the cabins. The doors were unlocked and the interior was run down and dusty, most furniture was broken or about to. Yet the structure was still stable enough for one to take shelter in. The two searched the cabin up and down finding very little till in a long unopened drawer Kate found some clothes.

"Oh.. hey Lex, come look at this. its... kind of moldy and about to fall apart but..." Kate trailed off then picked up the old outfit and showed it to Lex, "Do you think it would fit?"

"Hmm if you wash it in the stream on the back, I think it should. Which can help us. As I could pretend to be your pet.."

Kate's mind jolted for a moment processing that suggestion, "My what now?"

"Your pet. Talking ferals aren't super common. it would be easier with you doing the talking."

"but.. but.. you're HUGE. On all fours you're almost as tall as me standing, and probably weigh triple what I do with all that muscle"

"You enjoyed my muscle quite a bit the other night"

Kate reddened again, "I mean would people believe I could control a 'pet' like you?"

"More believable than the truth, and we don't want to be sharing that for the obvious reason that this is the king's kingdom still, and anyone can end up a pet or slave if your unlucky or captured."

"I suppose..." Kate trailed off and paced the room contemplating the plan, "alright I suppose we can give it a go, uh... boy"

Lex snort giggled and shook his head, "try to be a bit more authoritative when actually in town, you need to act like I'm your pet. Scold me, order me to sit or move with dominance. I'll pretend to be obedient with the occasional misbehavior to keep up the act."

"uh er I .. I'll try though.. lets just try to get in and out fast, I'd rather not be here longer than need be"

"Quite, That said, don't go to far, or after we leave this town I might feel the need to 'reassert' my position"

Kate nodded, suddenly both nervous and a tad excited knowing what that meant, then before she could stop it her mouth spoke, "That could be fun"

"Oh ho, my my, I will need to do it now anyway, my dear" He laughed and after grabbing an old rope from the cabin to use as a leash replacement, he walked from the cabin with the blushing sergal padding behind you to the shore.

Kate knelt down by the bank and began to wash the clothes they had found as best she could with just the water, "Lets hope no one misses these"

"Considering it's abandoned I doubt it" Lex said and sat down next to her

"True but it is still off the road from the village, someone or some kids might still use it"

"Possible, but it's that, or you walk into town as nude as you are right now." Lex then smirked again, "Now I personally don't have any issue with that. I'm just fine showing off my female's natural beauty to all"

"Lex please"

"What better way to make them jealous than to display that which is mine, and mine alone"

"Lex.." Kate trailed off and taking a deep breath to settle her heart rate. She still wasn't sure how she felt about being so casually referred to as "His", but her body apparently found all of this exciting.

"Once we get back to my homeland, I bet even the other gods would be jealous that I have you" He slide a paw up and down Kate's back as she bit her lip to stop herself from making an undignified noise or two. All she could think was 'its good that I'm not wearing underwear, or I'd have to clean that too.'

Kate managed to calm herself after a few more breaths and get back to cleaning. She didn't know what Lex was up to teasing her like that, they were way too close to the road now to actually do anything without way too big a risk of getting caught. Kate shook herself of the notion and finished cleaning the clothes before hanging them on a branch.

"They are a bit on the small side for me, but I should be able to squeeze into them, once they are dry of course."

"So just you and me till then huh" Lex's nose was suddenly very close.

"Y-yes it is. but.. you know we .. shouldn't. someone could come by and hear. or see" Kate stammered out.

"Perhaps they could. or perhaps not in any event...."

Kate had stopped listening midway through Lex's sentence because something had drawn her attention, "Lex shut up"

"Oh, look who's dominant now?"

"I'm serious I heard something."

"Really?" Lex switched out of silly mode and into serious mode, scanning the surroundings.

We scan over the landscape and see a head poking out from behind a bush. A young man, some sort of canid, apparently noticed us somehow. I place an arm in front of my bare breasts "uhh I think there's someone there..."
