

Turning Into A Money Hungry Bear

Andrew was just trying to entertain himself by going to GameStart and buying some games for his ps1 until you see a used game called Spyro The Dragon 2: Ripto's Rage.

“I'll buy this, please,” Andrew said as he bought it

“That'll be $25.50, but I gotta warn you that used games can sometimes be cursed ” the cashier said as he scanned the used game.

“Psh. Okay” Andrew said sarcastically as he completed the checkout

When it's done he goes home and puts the disc in the ps1. When you turn the tv and ps1 on, the tv suddenly turns extra bright and causes him to cover his eyes “Aah!” Andrew screamed

“Where am I?” Andrew said as he opened his eyes to see the world he was in next to a bridge.

Then he saw a money bag unexpectedly out in the open waiting for him.

“Why is this bag here?” Andrew said as he grabs the bag and inspects it, but unknown to him his transformation would begin as fur crept on his hands.

After Andrew finished inspecting the bag he noticed something missing in the bag

“Where's the gems? I must have more gems?” He said as he didn't notice the fur covered his hands and changed his five fingers into four fingers with claws popping out of each and then the fur covered the whole hands and arms.

The transformation continued as his belly gained weight until it was the size of a particular bear, but the shirt didn't rip with it as it changed into a black suit fancy people wear.

He finally noticed his changing body and clothes, "My Goodness what's happening to me?!" He said in a fancy tone as his pants turned into black pants with a little tail popping out behind him.

He thought about who he's transformed into until he realizes what character he's transformed into.

"Goodness me I'm Becoming MoneyBags!" Andrew said as his white shoes turned into brown long shoes, then his nose turned black then his mouth stretched into a bear muzzle with a monocle on his left eye and his brows turned long and colored black as the transformation was complete.

"Aggh!" Andrew screamed as he dropped the money bag when his head hurts with his memories being erased with new ones of moneybags, after his head stopped hurting he took the money bag and walked away from the bridge .

"Hmm I might know a dragon who will pay me for gems." Moneybags said as he replaced the human known as Andrew and is going to scam millions of creatures for gems in his bag.
