

Hunting with friends

quick and dirty stream version 1.0

"Hey guys, I brought the weed!" Eric said as he walked up to the 2 anthros that were sitting in an abandoned section of gym are of the college grounds. Eric was pretty new to this small group of "cool" guys that hung around behind the school and was still desperately trying to show he would be a "worthy" friend to have.

Eric was your typical human student, blond hair, green eyes and in pretty okay shape, even though the world they lived in was pretty mixed with both humans and anthros living side by side it was rare for humans to have anthro friends, Eric there for was very eager to become their friend ever since he ran into this little "chill spot" behind the school.

Normally the group was larger, 4 or 5 anthros always hung around after school but as per instruction Eric had shown up later and only 2 guys were chilling there, the glow of their cigarettes lit up part of their faces.

Eric knew both of them, the orange/yellow fox with brown stripes over his snout was called Loki and the other bigger dude with dark skin and thick red fur was most people called a dragon fox.

Eric knew both of them were close friends and had never seen 1 without the other at this chill spot unlike the others of the group.

"That's great dude" Loki said as he gave a wave with his paw to let the human know he should move closer, Loki found it quite entertaining that the human was so "nervous" around them. clearly worried to offend or something like that. "yeah awesome dude, so they gave you the four-p4wz blend when you asked and said it was for me?" Hades added

"yeah, they were first said it didn't exist but as I mentioned it was for you they got it from the back, must be some very special version" he said with a chuckle

"oh yeah. very special, me and Loki love just smoking this stuff and chill in the forest" hades said as he gestured at the trees behind the track field. "you are going to love this stuff too. curious how humans respond to it though, you are not chicken are you?"

Hades smirked as he made the chicken comment at Loki who started chuckling, seemed like an in-joke that Eric didn't understand but Eric laughed along anyway.

"Alright let's do this" Loki said as he got up and started stripping out his clothes, folding them up and putting them in a backpack that laying behind a old barrel

Hades was doing the same and Eric stood there a bit confused. Hades caught the blushing unsure human staring and chuckled, "this weed is some good shit, but it's better to not be restrained by something like clothes.... guess its a bigger deal for you humans, no fur and all”

more chuckling happened and Eric grunted a bit annoyed, he wasn't shy! he will show those furballs, he quickly started stripping out his own clothing, slowing down once he got to his boxers before finally also taking those off.

The 3 naked guys stood there as Loki lit up the weed Eric had retrieved, taking a deep inhale and holding the rich smoke before letting go. “oh yeah. hmm thats the shit” - he said as he handed the joint to Hades who did the same. having dragon dna he was able to drag a lot deeper and as he exhaled the circle the 3 formed was quickly filled with smoke.

Eric waited his turn to take a hit himself but as Hades handed him the joint Loki came over behind him. standing very close and sniffing at Eric's neck as he took a hit.

“Fuck” Eric coughed as the weed hit him really hard, it felt like a sledge hammer hit him in the head. he blinked and looked confused at what Loki was doing, asking him what the fox was up to.

“Oh nothing, just take a few more hits, take your time. me and Hades know the first time with this weed takes a little getting used to” Loki sniffed a few more times before he backed away, giving Hades a chance to do the same.

Eric was confused, was this something that anthros did? sniffing each other while high? Did this mean they were getting closer as friends?

He let Hades also get his sniffing in, wondering if he had to sniff back but the buzz of the weed was filling him quickly and he had trouble focusing, as the 3 passes the joint between them all seemed to really relax, way stronger than normal weed, this four-p4wz blend was indeed “good shit”

Eric chuckled as he looked over at Hades, “haha dude. it must be the weed but you look 2 feet shorter haha”

Hades smirked and nodded, “yeah it does that, i don't mind, don't need the height when on all fours”

Eric wasn't sure what Hades meant with that but nodded like he understood, this was cool. He was really connecting with these anthros, he reached for the joint as it was passed to him once again, it was pretty much smoked up by now, “ACK!?” what the hell?!” Eric shouted as instead of his normal hand an odd looking light-grey furred hand reached out.

Both Loki and Hades looked at the human that was freaking out with a knowing smirk, Loki licking his chops a bit. “what's the matter Eric?” asking like it wasn't obvious

“my hand! it's all hairy and it's cramping up... dude this weed is fucked. fuck i need to go to the hospital.. maybe it's an allergic reaction” Eric explained but stopped as both Hades and Loki were laughing at him.

Their laughs sounded a bit off, almost like there was a mix between anthro laughs and feral animal sounds.

“d.. dudes?” -he asked but noticed their bodies shrinking and shifting more. both the fox and the dragon fox grunted and growled as their spine seemed to make a loud crack sound, both of them leaning down on their hands, were they on their knees?.. no their legs looked shorter?

“what the fuck is happening! i'm having a bad trip guys” Eric said as he thought he was hallucinating, he looked back down at his weird hand and realized the changes had spread down his arm, a odd useless paw was now at the end of that changing arm and it seemed his other arm had met the same fate. his ears itched and as he looked around him found his reflection on a nearby window.

On Top of his head were 2 large floppy rabbit ears in the same light-grey color as his hands.

“Oh look Hades, a little bunny” -Loki said as he crawled over on all fours, circling around the scared Eric, Hades joined in. enjoying the little game him and his friend were playing. with each circle they turned around him Eric realized they were getting bigger... no wait.. he was getting smaller?

“little bun... bunny?” he says with a nervous stutter as Loki leaned closer, Loki's was towering over Eric now, and felt Loki's snout press against him, sniffing deep again.

“yeah. cute little bunny... you smell ... delicious “ -Eric's heart skipped a beat when he heard that only felt it beat twice as fast as another snout sniffed at him. Hades commenting “he does, good scent. good to track”

Eric looked down at himself, he was pretty much a grey little bunny now with floppy ears, his nose giggling nervously. as he looked up scared at the two towering feral predators.

“heh heh” - Hades chuckled before growling at the little bunny, “Run.... 5.....4....”

Eric finally realized what situation he was in... they were not making him a friend... they are making him into an evening snack... “g... guys?” he tries but Loki continues . “ 3.....”

Eric decides he has no option and turns around, starting to run towards the forest behind the track field, his alien body difficult to control at first, he wasn't used to hopping around on all fours but he quickly learned. he had to get out of here fast.

“2 and a half” he hears Loki say in the background as he manages to head into the forest, his little rabbit heart pounding like crazy, this was not really happening.. this had to be some weird dream. maybe he passed out from the weed?

Finding a big tree he digs himself under it, trying to be quiet as he hears the big feral paws of his “friends” coming closer.

“fuck.. fuck.. fuck” he was thinking to himself when he suddenly felt a nip at his little bunny tail, he jumped and started running again, digging himself out, he hears Hades rough voice, “come on Eric. too easy. I like to work for my meal!”

Eric was running twice as fast now. meal? he wasn't a meal!.. he wasn't even a bunny, he was a human! he breaks as he runs right into Loki's front legs.

“Boo” Loki said followed by a chuckle as Eric ran into yet another direction, the 2 predators were skilled hunters and Eric was inexperienced prey.

Poor Eric hopped and ran over rocks and under branches as he heard the 2 big foxes chasing him, for a moment he had the feeling he might get away from them and be safe but then he felt a strong bite in his back.

Hades voice heard a little further away as all 3 came to a stop, “shit why are you always faster than me!”

Eric squirmed a little bit in Loki's maw, he could feel some blood running down his fur but the bite wasn't deep enough to really do much damage.

“It's because i'm just better than you haha, you wanna share him?” Loki replied to Hades who growled with a bit of a chuckle in his voice and shook his head, “no, you caught him, you enjoy”

Eric gave one finally squirm to escape..enjoy him? no.. he was a human! not a meal!.

Loki tossed his prey up in the air, Eric looked down seeing that wide open fox maw under him coming closer as he started falling back down.

wiggling his snout and paws around in hope of somehow changing his trajectory but it was no use as he soon felt Loki's tongue under his paws and the maw closing around him

“no!” he screamed but then heard a big gulp sound around him and felt himself sliding down into the fox's throat.

“Oh damn, he is mighty tasty, should have shared with you Hades” Loki said as Eric felt himself slide down into the gut of his guy he was trying to become friends with.

it was warm and wet inside, it was oddly relaxing, no.. it can't end like this? Eric wiggled a bit more but soon found himself growing weak as he lost track of time, the warm body of Loki surrounding him, calmy kneading over him. odd how good it really felt. soon the world grew dark and Eric gave in, he was dead, he knew it.

It was a couple of hours later when Eric opened his eyes again, he blinked, he was not dead? seeing his familiar human body in his field of view, something soft and warm laying behind his back, looking down he noticed Loki's arms hugging around him.

“oh, you woke up... welcome back bud” Loki said as he let go, Eric turned around seeing Hades was laying next to Loki and all 3 of them seemed to be on a bed.

Had it all been a dream after all? no, he could feel the bite marks in his neck and back..., rubbing over his neck.

“Those will heal by morning, don't worry” Loki said with a smile as he noticed the concern in Eric's expression.

“you were good for a first time prey” Hades commented with a smirk “hope you do even better next time though”

Eric was still a bit confused about what was happening but Hades and Loki seemed to be pretty relaxed and pleased with how it all went.

“hope you didn't freak out too much? me and hades just love first time preys to be caught off guard.. they are more fun to tease.. and besides that's what friends do right? tease each other a bit”

Eric was slowly processing what was being said and slowly started to smile, he had been quite an experience, but it did seem like he made a couple of friends after all.

“mind if we go hunting again next week? love to catch you as well” Hades asked with an honest expression on his face.

Eric blushed but nodded, “who says I won't outrun you both next time?” he said as he relaxed with his friends.
