

Vore Thursday Quickie: A Kitsune's Snack

You wake up feeling something squeezing your legs together, it felt hot, tight, squishy yet hard and a bit wet. Opening your eyes you look down at the foot of your bed, seeing something large and black around your lower legs. Eyes regaining their focus as the sleepiness wears off and you see the kitsune you met last night, Ookitsu. "What... what's happening?" All you get in reply is a groan and a sudden tug on your body, becoming clear after a moment that the multi tailed fox was pulling you inside his cock.

"I was wondering how long it would take for you to wake up. Now the real fun begins." Ookitsu said with a toothy grin as he looked down at you. You were about to let out a scream only to stop in shock as a tail tip opened up revealing a black, fleshy maw. You heard of this kind of thing before but thought it was merely a rumor used to scare people. Screaming out for help, you get cut off moments later as the tailmaw in front of you engulf your head, vision blocked off by the hot, rippling black flesh around your head. It was hard to even open your muzzle inside the tail's maw and any screams you let out were muffled greatly by the flesh. Eyes having a hard time staying open as the drool like fluid inside layers onto your head. Reaching up you grab onto that tail, trying to tug it off your head, feeling it's hold tighten around you.

Feeling Ookitsu's paw stroke along the side of your body, you start to squirm against the touch. Your body starts to rock as the black flesh slowly inches it's way up your legs. A warm liquid flows out around your legs, it seems to cling to your body and feels slightly thick. The black flesh slurping up most of your thighs, you squirm more trying to free yourself of the nine tail's grasp. A slight tingle ran through you, seeing an electrical energy illuminate the inside of the tail showing the wet sheen inside for a brief moment before a massive shock ran through your body. Whimpering from the pain of Ookitsu's 'warning' inflicted to your body and you stop struggling against him.

A purr ran through the tail and into your body as the kitsune seems to take great pleasure in using you. Feeling the cock start to go over your hips, you let out a loud whimper, wishing Ookitsu would let you go. Your feet push up against a tight space and your descent down into the shaft seems to of stopped. Trying to tug yourself free once more, only to weakly wiggle inside the tight flesh. The warm fluid still flowing out around you, pooling underneath your upper body. Letting go of the tail latched onto your head, you grab onto the side of the bed trying to use it as leverage. No matter how much you try though you couldn't pull even an inch of your body free.

Something grabbed a hold of your arms, feeling much like the tailmaw around your head. Crying out as your arms were forced to the side of your body, thrashing about madly in Ookitsu's grasp. Seeing a similar shimmer of light from the arcing bolts of electrical energy before getting a large zap through your body. Starting to feel a bit numb from the jolt running through your nervous system and weakened a bit more making it hard to move. Barely feeling your feet as they slip through the tight space they had been pressed up against for a while now.

Your bed starts rocking more as Ookitsu seems to get back into his pace, with his massive shaft inching it's way up your upper body with your arms now pinned inside. As much as you'd hate to admit it the rippling motions, along with the kitsune thrusting to tug your body deeper felt oddly good. This caused your wiggling to slow momentarily as you started to give in to the massaging motions pulling you deeper. That was until your mind came back to reality upon feeling your feet sink into a warm, thick and odd feeling liquid. Starting to struggle madly inside the cock until another surge of that electrical energy ran through you.

Severely weakened by now from the electrical attacks as well as your own struggling. Whimpering quietly to yourself, feeling that shaft start to go over your belly. The tailmaw still suckling away at your head and the fluid inside seemed to increase in quantity. Your whole body was soaked both the pre coming up and the drool going down along your body.

Time seemed to take an eternity to pass as the kitsune worked on the last of your body. Legs having to curl up within the predator you once thought was going to be a new friend. The head of the shaft started to go up over your neck, feeling the tailmaw loosen it's grip yet not let go as it seemed to push you and the cock deeper inside it. You weren't sure at this point if it was just your heightened awareness making it seem like time was going slower or if Ookitsu was just taking his time with you.

The cock slowly slipped over your face concealing it inside the flesh, slowly pulling you deeper. Your body started to regain its sense of feeling again except for your legs which still felt the same numbness as before, only barely able to feel that thick liquid around them. Slowly slipping down into the tight space inside the kitsune which by the feel of things seemed to be his balls. The taut flesh squeezed around your body, keeping you in place, chest deep in his cum.

Your prison seemed to sway some as the cum around you sloshed about and pressed you from one side of the sack to the other. Hoping that Ookitsu was going to let you go free and not leave you trapped inside there. This hope started to fade as your body grew weaker and thinner, feeling like your body was merely smushing against the walls of the sack rather than pushing against it like before. Raising an arm to your face, you lick it, only tasting his cum and even after a few more licks, that was still all that you could taste or feel upon your arm. Bringing your other hand to your arm you try and wipe of the cum to see if you can feel your arm underneath but the more you tried the thinner your arm seemed to get until you could feel it no longer and heard something drop into the cum.

Trying to yell, only to find that you no longer could, your voice completely gone with no sounds coming out of it. Wanting to cry but unable to as you realize Ookitsu was turning you into his cum and you seemed to be doomed to live through all of it. Feeling around for more of your body, you find that most of it had turned into more of the thick liquid you are sitting in.

Just before you could sink into the pool of cum and give into the kitsune, you feel a sudden suction pull you back up the cock. Getting very little hope from the action since as you were there was no way you could survive. Going back out went by a lot faster than going down, feeling a similar electrical tingle run through your body as you were shot out into a dark and familiar space. Feeling the flesh around you start to slurp you out of the cock and deeper inside. The cum still working away at your body even now. You try to think back on where you went wrong when suddenly everything went blank in your head and...
