

Vore Thursday Quickie: A Midnight Snack

Aziel woke up from his slumber feeling Ookitsu's shaft poking at his back with the large knot grinding up against his ass. Trying to get comfortable once more to fall asleep but the throbbing erection was making it difficult to do so. Pulling himself free of the kitsune's grasp, the genet tried to fall asleep once more letting himself relax but his mind started to linger. Groaning as the thoughts in his mind made him a bit frisky, wanting to try and see how far he could go before the kitsune woke up. Pulling back the covers, the genet reached down slowly stroking the kitsune's shaft, eliciting a soft moan from Ookitsu. Hesitating for only a moment upon hearing the sound before wrapping his paw around the thick shaft. The glow from Aziel's pads and mouth were all that let the genet see his actions as he started to slowly paw off the sleeping kitsune.

It wasn't long before Ookitsu started to stir a bit more in his sleep causing the genet to stop and pull his paw away from the throbbing shaft. Pulling the blankets off the rest of the way, Aziel looked down the dark silhouette of his friend, eyeing the footpaws as they slowly fidgeted in the kitsune's sleep. Making his way down to them, making sure not to disturb Ookitsu with his movements. Upon reaching the paws, Aziel grasped them and pressed a finger against the main pad. Feeling the mostly soft pad against his own as he held the paw loosely. Once the kitsune's stirring died down, Aziel pressed his nose against those padded digits, inhaling as he took in the kitsune's natural scent.

Pushing his tongue out between the two middle digits, murmuring happily at the taste of Ookitsu's paws. Freezing up upon feeling Ookitsu's paw move once more, toes curling up as they squeezed the tongue between them and tugged slightly. Barely able to move along with the paw as it moved up the bed about a foot pulling him along all the way. Ookitsu let out a few grunts in his sleep before going still once more. Aziel let out a small breath of relief once his tongue was freed from the kitsune's digits. Watching as those white furred digits shifted about, if it wasn't for the fact Ookitsu was asleep he'd swear the kitsune was trying to provoke him to worship and play with that paw.

Nuzzling the digits in front of him before slurping at them once more. Grabbing onto that digitigrade paw before him, he started to rub his glowy pads along the soft black fur and pads. Aziel was lost in his thoughts and fantasies as time seemed to slow down for him enjoying the paw greatly. Stopping only once he felt the paw press against his muzzle hard, pushing up over the top of his face as the kitsune stretched. Huffing slightly as he had been enjoying himself up until his sleeping friend stopped his actions. Once he came back to reality fully the genet realized just how much his shaft was aching to get out of its sheath. Reaching down, he unzipped his sheath letting his glowing shaft out.

Moving over to the side, Aziel gently rolled Ookitsu onto his back, enjoying the view of the kitsune as the moonlight started to shine in through the windows. Easing his way between the kitsune's legs as he pressed his cold nose against the large fuzzy balls. Inhaling Ookitsu's musk deeply before giving them a slow lick, tasting bits of pre and cum that had dried up in the fur. Upon feeling the kitsune's paw graze against his own balls and shaft, the genet let out a muffled moan, enjoying everything about the situation currently. Even though it was only the top of the paw Aziel took what he could get and grinded up against that soft fur as he started licking up the shaft tasting pre as it leaked out the tip.

The genet knew he'd have to be careful with the kitsune's shaft as he knew full well about his friend's 'eating' habits. Opening his muzzle as he reached the tip taking the shaft into the glowy warmth of his maw. Bringing his own paws up to Ookitsu's belly, rubbing over it slowly to both help the kitsune relax more and keep him still. Soon a soft purr could be heard from the kitsune and he laid still as even his tails slowed down in their moving around to gentle flicks.

Aziel wondered if he could get Ookitsu off without waking him up as he seemed to be pushing things already. He seemed to be in a relaxed state for now which should let him play around with the sleeping kitsune for at least a little longer. In his current position it was hard for Aziel to take in most of Ookitsu's shaft with it being over a foot in length. Shifting himself into a better position moving a bit further up the kitsune's legs careful not to press down on one of the nine tails, he was able to take in a few more inches of the ebony shaft.

His focus taken off his task slightly for a moment as he felt a tail brush up against his crotch, letting out a slow exhale as the fluffy tail moved away from his crotch. Just before he could go back to focusing on the kitsune's arousal though he felt the flesh of Ookitsu's tailmaw go over the underside of his hips. Trying his best not to thrust against the slimy flesh as it toyed with his bits and rear. The fact that his own shaft was starting to leak pre wasn't helping as the tailmaw could better taste his arousal better causing it to try and pull the genet down into the tail. Luckily the tailmaw didn't have a good angle to pull him into the slimy flesh just yet. At the same time though it also made it harder for him to work on his task while not waking Ookitsu.

Inhaling deeply through his nose the genet focused as much as he could on the throbbing shaft in his maw. Working his tongue around the cock slightly while focusing on the underside of it the most. Though it had taken quite a while for the sleeping kitsune to finally get off, Aziel was finally rewarded as he felt the first shot of cum hit the back of his throat. Gulping it down eagerly along with the torrent of cum that made it's way out the shaft and down his throat. Feeling his belly feeling with the kitsune's seed rather quickly, making it swell slightly before slowing to a stop. Ookitsu's climax was soon followed up by the tailmaw squeezing around his ass and crotch. Whimpering around the shaft still in his mouth as it slowly turned into a moan, hitting his own climax, shooting his own load onto the slick flesh of the tailmaw.

Pulling off of the shaft, Aziel nuzzled the tip of the shaft knowing full well that after a climax like that Ookitsu's shaft might try and devour him. This turned out to be true as the urethra slowly started to stretch open around the nose nuzzling against it. Making sure to take it slowly as he could not wanting the kitsune to wake up just yet. Pre flowed out slowly around him coating his muzzle making it slide in all the easier. Looking up at the sleeping kitsune one last time tonight, looking so peaceful in his slumber. Grinning to himself as the ebony shaft went up over his eyes and soon forced his ears to splay against his head. The inside of the shaft was hot and the musk was almost overpowering to Aziel as the rest of his head was pulled inside the length.

Outside the kitsune still slept though eating others this way was almost second nature to him as his tails started to help the genet with his goal. Slowly the tails found their way around the willing prey, lifting his body up into the air as he shaft grew around Aziel all while pulling him deeper. For a moment Aziel worried he might of woken up the kitsune already but the lack of words and paws roaming over his body seemed to suggest his tails were working of their own accord to him. Staying still was probably the hardest thing for Aziel to do right now as all he wanted was to wiggle deeper inside his friend.

This was definitely not the first time he has been made cock food of by the kitsune and he was sure it wouldn't be the last either. Feeling his nose start to press into the next chamber as his arms were firmly pinned against his sides. Inside the balls he could barely see the cum below and the slick black flesh around him thanks to his glowy maw. With his body sliding inside the hungry shaft faster by the second his head was soon submerged in the cum below. Holding his breath for what seemed like an eternity before enough of his body slipped inside the orbs to let his head go back above the surface. The air inside was heavy with Ookitsu musk making it hard to breath and move around too much, not that he really wanted to anyway.

The tails squeezed around Aziel's body as Ookitsu's body seemed to be getting excited once more from all the attention it was receiving. A tailmaw soon found its way to the genet's footpaws, taking them into the slimy flesh as it gently kneaded around them with it's gulping motions. Aziel was not expecting such a thing to happen and it only made him get stirred up himself once more. Curling his toes as he did his best not to move though once his hips entered the shaft, he couldn't handle it and started humping lightly against the ebony flesh.

His descent into the shaft quickened as the widest parts of his body were all but consumed and all that remained were his legs and tail. With his body making the balls expand in size, Aziel could soon feel the kitsune's legs pressing against him. By the time the genet's hips entered the balls he had gotten off a second time thanks to the kitsune. The legs slipped inside with relative ease with his tail getting slurped in soon after. Curling up inside the balls as the rest of his body joined him inside, Aziel happily nuzzled and started pressing out against the flesh holding him seeing if he could wake Ookitsu.

It wasn't long before Ookitsu stretched out, looking to his left to see no one there. Blinking as he felt how wet his footpaw was and some shifting between his legs. Sitting up as he looked at his balls, yawning as he gathered what happened. Reaching down, the kitsune rubbed over the bulges just to make sure he wasn't dreaming. "You better churn away into a nice load of seed by the time I wake up Aziel." Shaking his head with a smirk as he laid back down to fall asleep, hopefully waking up when it's actually daylight outside.

Aziel snickered to himself knowing Ookitsu full well enjoyed and amused by this turn of events. Though a little disappointed he missed out on such an enjoyable act while he was asleep. Feeling the cum around him slowly start to churn and turn him into more of the kitsune's seed. The genet slowly drifted off into his own slumber once more, hoping the kitsune would be kind enough to bring him back sooner rather than later.
