

An Asexual Anthem

Ace of Hearts and Ace of Spades;
Making interlocking braids.
Do not worry you aren't alone;
Take a stand, make yourselves known!
Our voices you won't strangle;
Stand under the triangle!
Raise that flag and don't pull back;
The purple, white, gray, and black!

Their words bite like ice and snow;
There's nothing wrong with you. No!
You are no less than others;
Take a stand for your brothers!
The choice was in no way yours;
Our kind forever endures!
You cannot stop our wolf pack;
The purple, white, gray, and black!

We don't need your sympathy;
Their hate will be infamy!
Let them know that we exist;
Fight their loathing, yes resist!
Though they think that we may lie;
For their standards we defy!
We can fight off all the flak;
The purple, white, gray, and black!

You may be a one percent;
But as it is, it was meant!
But yes, you are who you are;
Together we heal our scar!
We don't want to make beds shake;
We want unlimited cake!
Until that time we fight back;
The purple, white, gray, and black!

Ace of Hearts and Ace of Spades;
Making interlocking braids.
Do not worry you aren't alone;
Take a stand, make yourselves known!
Our voices you won't strangle;
Stand under the triangle!
Raise that flag and don't pull back;

The purple, white, gray, and black!
... The purple, white, gray, and black!
... The purple, white, gray, and black!
