

The Wish

Long ago, in a distant land known to its inhabitants as Torittal, there existed a small, quiet little village called Dregul. Dregul to many was the home of a race of anthropomorphic fox people known as Dringados.

And, yes, they are not renamon-like in any way, but if you like, you can pretend they are, if it makes you happy.

Anyways, to many who pass by, it might seem like just another farming village. But there is a lot more to it than, heh heh... Meets the eye.

You see, in a nearby forest, there is said to be an ancient temple to an old age goddess hidden deep within said forest. According to legend, if one were to bring a small chunk of a rare kind of gem called Silver Emerald to the temple and toss it into the holy fountain within the temple, one would be allowed a single wish. Of course, the gemstone being so rare, very few are able to try and see if this legend is true or not.

But, even if the gem was abundant, the locals of the village don't really care too much about this legend. Some think of it as hogwash, while others do believe it as real, but don't trust the legend too much. After all, there must be SOME kind of catch to it all. And even then, many of the villagers are aware of the old saying "be careful what you wish for", so most of them are happy to be living their simple lives rather than live a life of a king, since let's face it: Money and ultimate power don't really buy happiness now, do they?

But, of all the villagers in the village, there was one that had a wish he wished was granted. A young male named Toronshi Coon, the village sheep tender.

Toronshi was a male in his 30s, who raised the sheep of his homevillage for many years. He seemed rather content with his quiet life, surrounded by sheep. But, deep down, he had a desire for something more.. A desire for.. Women. Or, at least one woman who would satisfy his growing lust. Why, even the sheep he tends to are starting to look good to him.. And he really doesn't want to go that way. He isn't THAT desperate. Or at least, not yet, anyways.

Now, you must be wondering "Why not go look for women in the village? Is he that bad at picking up girls?"

Well, he would, but there is one problem that gets in the way of that: there are hardly any single women in the village. Those that are single are too young to be in a relationship in the first place. Of all the adult males, he is one of the few who are single and rather quite horny. But while others may resort to masturbation to deal with their sexual needs, he doesn't believe that it would be enough for him.

So, after suffering years of hornyness , how is he going to solve his personal problem? By daring to visit this temple he heard so much about. But wait, wouldn't he need a chunk of Silver Emerald before he travels there?

Well, luckily for him, he was able to find a small, bite-sized bit of Silver Emerald in the field while he tended his sheep one day. How it got there, he will never know. But at least now he has what he needs to make his wish. In fact, it was the discovery of this very piece of Silver Emerald that inspired him to try and find the temple of legend. The opportunity to satisfy his lust by simply dropping a shiny gem in a fountain and making a wish is too tempting for him to throw away.

And so, this is pretty much where the story begins: With Toronshi walking through a big forest, hoping that the legend he heard about really was true.

It has been a good hour now since he first stepped into the forest near his homevillage, following an old dirt path that is supposed to lead him to what he seeks. With his piece of Silver Emerald in paw, he walked on, making sure to keep a good eye out for anything that could belong to this old temple he seeks, be it an old wall segment or half a pillar.

Once another hour had passed, his watchful eyes soon saw something most.. Amazing.

It was an archway, made of old, blue marble, with pictures of a beautiful dragoness imprinted upon it. This must be a part of the temple of old! With this discovery, Toronshi became most excited about learning that the temple was, in fact, real. and not just a bunch of talk. Of course, he still had to find out if the other part of what he heard was true. So, he continued along the path, soon coming across more of the ruins of this temple, before being greeted by a mossy, damaged blue marble building. It was not of great size, which was really odd to Toronshi. He expected it to be much larger. But instead, it is the size of an everyday church. Having finally found the temple, he was overcome with both excitement, awe, and even a hint of fear. He wasn't totally sure what could lay in wait for him inside. Would he really find a fountain within this temple? Or, a bloodthirsty beast?

Well, after thinking about it, he figured he had nothing to lose, so he decided to take a chance and hope his desire to get laid will not get him killed.

Inside, the walls were covered in moss, signs of age everywhere. It really was old indeed. It didn't take him very long to find the fabled fountain within the temple, since it was smack dab in the middle of the temple.

He was speechless upon seeing this marble fountain in all its majestic glory. Why, water still flowed like it was brand new. When he stepped closer, he could see the sparkle of gems within the fountain's pool, implying that others before him have come here as well. But, did they get their wishes too?

Well, they must have, since they never took their offering back.

At last, his curiosity was about to be satisfied. Will he get what he paid for? He dropped his Silver Emerald into the pool and waited to find out. At first, all was quiet. Then, he heard a faint sound from the water, which he found strange. He figured that maybe the Silver Emerald he dropped in that was making the noise. And then suddenly... A flash so bright, it startled him off his feet.

And then, upon looking up, he saw a beautiful blue dragoness sitting on the edge of the fountain, her body free of clothing, thus displaying her large breasts proudly.

"Well, thanks for the Silver Emerald, stranger,." she said, holding his gift in her claw, "it's going to be a great addition to my collection. Now, in return for this lovely gem, what do you wish for? You may make once wish, so make it count, and remember to be careful when wishing, for you only get just one."

Now, gazing upon this hottie hot hottie of a goddess was giving him a raging boner so stiff, it was fighting to get out of his pants. He just couldn't stop staring at her tits, him just getting up onto his feet to make his wish.

"Wow, you are a lot prettier than I expected.. I think I have a good idea what I want to wish for"

"Oh? Well, what will it be, mortal one?"

"I wish I could have.. You, oh beautiful goddess. I want to make you my woman and make wonderful music together! Is such a wish allowed?"

The dragoness would simply smile at his wish. "Well, if that is really what you want, then so be it. But remember, be careful what you wish for."

The goddess then got to her feet and walked towards her clearly excited wisher, strutting her stuff while Toronshi undid the rope that held his pants up, letting them fall and exposing his penis to his first playmate. It was rather normal sized, nothing special. But the dragoness didn't care. All that mattered to her right now was making his wish come true.

She would lean over and pucker up, planting a big kiss on the crown of his member as she grasped it, making him tremble violently upon being touched down there for the first time. He would feel her teasing tongue slipping under his foreskin and her lips suck harder on the crown of his hard meat. It was heavenly for Toronshi, and totally worth the trouble of getting here. The goddess seemed to be having a good time as well, which is logical when you think about it. Who knows how long it has been since she last had sex, if she ever had any at all?

As she worked his meat with her godlike skill, she got to taste more and more of his precum, moaning in delight at the taste of such mortal pre. Yet, after sucking cock for a little while, just as the feelings Toronshi felt were strongest, she pulled away. Although confused at first, he soon realised what she had in mind when she turned around and spread her buttcheeks for the Dringado.

Without a word said, he wasted no time in grabbing hold of that scaly ass of hers and pressed the head of his penis right against her anus, moaning in bliss as he shoved it deep inside her asshole and experienced the tightness of her rump. The dragoness did not object his action in the slightest, rather enjoying dick in her tailhole as she reached for her sex and rubbed her clitoris, quivering in delight.

Toronshi would not hold back, thrusting his manhood in and out of her hole hard and fast, making his lustful wish count as his sack bumped against her slit with every thrust forward, a constant slapping sound being made from this rough fuck with the divine. And despite how hard he was on her ass, the goddess just took it with a smile, panting and trembling further as she masturbated away, slipping two of her fingers in her snatch and fingering herself to the beat, her holy nectar running down her thighs as she grew wetter and wetter from this rump bashing.

As humorous as it may sound, Toronshi's rough fucking would soon cause this godly being to collapse to her knees and claws, the sheer strength of his thrust too much for her to handle without support. So she fell to the ground and took it like a bitch while Toronshi had his way with her, satisfying his dirty fantasies with her ass.

Toronshi would pound that ass harder and harder, making her yelp in pain as he worked her harder than she could handle, the goddess suddenly crying out in heavenly bliss as her pussy began to squirt her divine juices all over the mossy stone tiles between Toronshi's feet, him still not giving her a break whatsoever. Harder and faster, his grunts loud and lust ridden, he would not stop till he felt his cum rush out of his cock. And once he did feel it, the moment before a drop of his seed spurted out into her ass, he pulled out quickly and let his cum fly through the air, landing upon the top of her head, across her back, and of even between her buttcheeks. At last, Toronshi had finally delt with years of sexual need with one hard fuck, and came hard as well.

"Mmm, that was good.." said Toronshi, rubbing his spent cock as he looked down at the messy dragoness, "After that little test run, I think you're ready to come home with me."

"Well, mortal one, as much as I would love to... I can't."

"What? why? Did I not wish to have you as my own?" replied Toronshi, feeling a little ripped off.

"Well, mortal, in case you didn't know, I cannot leave my temple. I am forever bounded to this place.. It is my home."

"Oh? So, that means that, whenever I get horny, I have to travel all the way here for a fuck?"

"Well, no. If you leave, then I am no longer your playmate. If you want my body again, you'll have to bring another gift."

Now Toronshi had realised that she wasn't kidding when she said to be careful what to wish for. He was so busy staring at her great breasts that he couldn't even think his wish through with great care. So, now he had to make a choice: He could go home and probably never get to use the goddess's fine rump ever again, or stay with her in the temple and fuck her all he wanted, but shorten his lifespan due to the fact that there isn't a whole lot to eat around here besides icky bugs. So he pulled up his pants and sat by the fountain to think, taking his time to think this through and make an intelligent decision. After much careful thinking, he finally made up his mind and said:

"Ah, fuck it.. I may not live as long, but I'd rather have a short, happy life with all the free pussy I want, than live a long, sad life back home where I might never get laid again."

And thus, he dropped his pants again and pounced his woman once more for another hard romp.

The End

The moral for this story? If someone gives you the opportunity to wish for just about ANYTHING in the world, please keep your mind clear and think it through. NEVER let your dick or pussy do the wishing for you.
