

~ Heart of a Zora

Chapter 8

The two reappeared on top of Lanayru Tower, where it was currently raining outside. Link wasn't exactly thrilled that the weather chose to be rainy, but he'd been in his fair share of bad weather so it couldn't really be helped. He walked over to the terminal, took out his tablet and placed it into the interface. The terminal lit up as it displayed its 'Sheikah Slate authenticated' message, before displaying a new message, 'Awaiting Input'.

Sidon watched curiously as Link navigated to the Hyrule Compendium and scrolled over to the image of Zora's Sapphire, selected it and tapped on 'Target with sensor'. It asked to confirm this, to which Link tapped 'Yes'. There was a momentary pause before the display on the terminal read, 'Scanning...'. The two watched with great anticipation, but had their hopes dashed when the readout showed, 'Object not found', before automatically lifting the tablet to a vertical position for Link to remove it, then powered back down.

"Well, that rules out Lanayru then." Sidon said, the disappointment in his voice evident.

Link put his hand across the back of Sidon's waist. "It's alright. I had a feeling the stone wouldn't necessarily be close by after so many years. Let's just move on to the next region. How about we try the Akkala Highlands next?"

Sidon nodded. "Thank you. That'd be fine."

Link began to select the Akkala Tower. "If it makes you feel any better, this won't take as long as you think. There are fifteen towers in all. Assuming the stone isn't located at one, we simply teleport straight to the next tower and repeat the process until it is."

Sidon smiled. "I'm confident we'll succeed. Ready when you are."

Link sent them to Akkala Tower and repeated the process of inserting the Sheikah Slate into the terminal and scanning the highlands for the stone. Alas, it wasn't there either. They then teleported south to Hateno Tower, then Faron; all with no luck.

Before moving on to the next tower, Link turned to him.

“I’m thinking of taking us to Eldin Tower next. The region is loaded with gemstones that are encased in rock. For all we know, the sapphire could’ve wound up there and encased in such rock as well.”

Sidon shifted a bit nervously. “Yes, but I’m sure you know how hot the air is there. I’m assuming you have a Flamebreaker Armor?”

“I do, yes.”

“Well, unfortunately, I’m a little too big for that armor or any other armor sold in shops for that matter.” Sidon pointed out.

“I’ll say.” Link mumbled without thinking, having gazed briefly at Sidon’s chiseled pecs.

“Pardon me?” Sidon asked, having not quite heard what Link just said.

“What? Oh, nothing!” Link quickly said.

The Hylian took out a Fireproof Elixir and handed it to him.

“Here’s the next best thing. This’ll make you immune to the fiery air there for 6 minutes. I’ve got three more stored away, totalling 24 minutes of immunity to the Death Mountain air. You’ll still need to be careful of any actual fire or molten hot surfaces or you will catch fire yourself.” Link warned.

Sidon grinned, storing away the elixir. “Well then, it’s a good thing I’ve got a big strong Hylian like yourself to protect me.”

Link laughed. “Hahaha! Maybe, but I’m not the one who’s got the...well...I’d say you’re a lot stronger than I am, especially the way you matched a full-sized Lynel in raw strength. You’ve got incredible muscles!”

Sidon smirked before giving Link a hard flex of one of his biceps. The muscle swelled like a balloon into a boulder-like peak and undoubtedly just as hard as one! That bicep had to be pushing a whopping 30 plus inches! Just where was he hiding that much arm muscle? Link felt himself staring a little more than he intended, since Sidon smirked at him teasingly.

“Perhaps you should take a picture with your tablet. It’ll last longer.” Sidon teased.

Link immediately pulled out his Sheikah Slate and rushed to open the camera function.

“Seriously?!” Link asked excitedly.

“Really? I had no idea you liked my muscles.” Sidon said, “To be honest, I never really thought much of it, just as I’m sure you don’t really think about your own. Seriously, have you noticed how ripped you are? What you lack in muscle mass you certainly make up for in definition and vascularity; all the hallmarks of an accomplished Hylian warrior who’s really gotten physical in the wild. So then, how’s this for you?” Sidon smiled, flexing his bicep again.

“Actually, could you perhaps flex both of your biceps as hard as you can?” Link asked hopefully.

Sidon’s smile turned more suggestive. “I’d love to.”

Sidon brought his arms up slowly and purposefully, then brought his forearms up as he clenched his fists real tight and made his biceps erupt with volcanic prominence! Veins as thick as pencils snaked their way down his arms and up and over those peaks of power. Link pointed his tablet at him and blushed hard when he saw him start pumping his pecs as well. This caused Link to falter for a moment, before pulling himself together long enough to snap a couple photos.

“Let me see.” Sidon said.

Link’s face was quite red as he held out the tablet’s screen to him. Sidon looked at it for a moment and grinned.

“Hey! Not bad! Guess all that working out I’ve done over the decades has seriously paid off!” Sidon said with a tone of modesty.

Link begged to differ. Until now, he had tried his best not to fixate on Sidon’s bulging physique, focusing instead on the gorgeous beauty he had in his face and, more importantly, deep inside him. And it was quite true, in fact. The feelings he had developed for this Zora truly did stem from his unwaveringly positive personality and the unwavering kindness he has always shown towards him. Once again, he found himself faced with a moment where he wondered if he should reveal those feelings.

Grateful for the seclusion of the Sheikah Tower they were on, that and because night had recently fallen, Link sat down on the floor. Sidon looked down at him for a moment before sitting down beside him. He could see clearly that Link had something on his mind. For the first time though, he was almost certain he knew what it was now. It was evident from the look on his face when he flexed his muscles for him. However, it extended much further than that singular moment. Link had visited Zora’s Domain quite frequently, mainly just to see him and say hello. He was always happy to offer words of encouragement to him to help him keep his morale up. It started to make sense why he visited him so frequently.

Link was thinking about setting up camp here for the night. An inn would’ve probably been preferable, but he kinda wanted to be alone here with him in this seclusion. None of the inns were exactly known for privacy, just sleep.

Link found himself slightly startled by Sidon’s large hand grasping his own. He hadn’t realized how much his mind had wandered since he sat down. He was ready to suggest staying the night up here, protected from any possible rain or lightning. He just now noticed that Sidon was sitting right next to him with his huge arm now wrapped around him. Did he know?

Link looked up at him. The Zora prince had the most gorgeous smile he had seen on him yet, one of warmth and affection. Link returned his gesture by resting a hand on one of his outstretched legs, gently rubbing the bulging muscles beneath. He felt a stirring in his pants the longer his hand touched him.

Without realizing what was happening, Sidon shifted his position as low as he could so that their heads were level.

Link could no longer stay silent. In fact, he was certain Sidon felt the same way. Without any more hesitation, Link spoke the words he had longed to say to him.

“I love you, Sidon.” Link said, his heart racing a mile a minute as he did.

“Oh Link, my dear sweet Link...” Sidon responded.

Both of them closed their eyes and shared their first kiss. Link felt the blood rushing to his face and his heart racing a mile a minute as deep affection passed between their lips. Finally, their lips parted long enough for them to gaze deeply into each other’s eyes.

Sidon reached over and placed his hand over the tent in Link’s pants. He then pulled it back and began to slip it inside of those pants. Link flinched a little, to which Sidon paused.

“It’s okay. I’ll be gentle. I can see how much you need this. May I?” he asked.

Link gazed down, blushing heavily, as he managed a silent singular nod. Sidon thought he looked so cute looking so vulnerable like this. He slipped his large hand down Link’s pants and lightly grasped the Hylian’s erect penis, giving it small strokes. There was too little room for him to do more than that, leading Link to pull off all of his clothes, exposing his ripped physique and stiff cock to the calm night air.

Sidon was now free to stroke Link more vigorously as the latter laid back against the former’s chiseled pecs. Link felt like he could melt against Sidon’s incredible body! He reached his left arm behind his head and rested his hand around Sidon’s neck. The sensation was absolutely amazing! Sidon’s hand seemed to produce its own lubrication through the very tiny pores in it.

It wasn't long before Link started to moan in erotic pleasure from the stimulation. Faced with another powerful urge to kiss him; Link turned over, which forced Sidon to stop for a moment. He wrapped both arms around Sidon's head and kissed him deeply. Their tongues danced around each other's while Link lightly rubbed his cock against the Zora's bulging abs. He became consumed with an overwhelming desire to take this man.

The two were both moving in time to each other's erotic motions, their hormonal levels rising rapidly. After their lips parted, Sidon guided Link onto his back. He lightly grasped the base of Link's shaft and began sucking his cock. Link's moans came out louder than before. Hot damn, Sidon was really good at this! ♥ Sidon's head bobbed up and down over Link's manhood, his lips stimulating him even more than his hand ever did. As he did this, Link opened his eyes long enough to not only watch Sidon giving him his first ever blowjob, but he noticed an even bigger and more veiny cock springing to life between Sidon's legs. He was clearly enjoying this and then some!

Sidon increased the speed of his sucking, which led to Link feeling himself approaching orgasm. His moans became loud enough to echo through the night.

"Ohhh god! Yes! OH SIDON!! I'M GONNA CUM!!"

Link's whole body seized up and his hips bucked involuntarily as he ejaculated hard into Sidon's enveloping mouth. The Zora tasted Link's warm and creamy semen on his tongue as it became coated with it! He became surprised at how much cum Link was packing! He began swallowing every last bit of it, loving the salty taste of it! After what felt like the longest time condensed into a few intense seconds, Link's body fell relaxed as he panted for a couple moments, residual moans escaping his lips.

Sidon leaned over and rubbed Link's chest, serenely admiring the sculpted pecs he was sporting. Link was too humble to give himself enough credit. He was the perfect combination of cute and sexy and Sidon knew it.
