

Before too long, Illia and Biyana had established quite the routine. Biyana would come see Illia after he work every day and enjoy a romp with her. They tried all sorts of new ways of playing, including some experiments with things they were unsure about but soon warmed up to. With every romp they had, Illia poured more of her fertility into Biyana and eased the burden on herself. Biyana loved having fertility so strong that he could outgrow the universe in a nanosecond. Likewise, Illia loved the relief that Biyana gave her; he helped her gain release from a burden that pained her for centuries.

Illia couldn't give all her fertility to Biyana, as that would be too much for the Mew to bare. In fact, even a micro-percent of her fertility had been hard for Biyana to keep under control. Luckily for Illia that, as Biyana siphoned her fertility, she learned how to feed Biyana divine power as well. Without so much of her strength dedicated to keep her cock soft, a lot of power was hers to abuse. She could create or destroy existence with the power she had, but she chose to pour that strength into Biyana. She wanted him to be as much of an elder god as she was.

As a result, Biyana got to experience a rush of power and fertility that got better with every passing day. Their biggest romps saw them growing to sizes Biyana had been unable to fathom. Even beyond the unfathomable sizes he could grow to before, these sizes were greater.

Biyana thought about this every day, and at one point a particular Mew came to mind: Pyso. He claimed to be the most powerful grower in existence - a valiant, if not untrue statement. He knew Pyso would never believe words, so he and Illia had to prove him wrong in person.

Pyso was more than eager to follow Biyana to his hang-out and meet his mate, whom he claimed was an extremely powerful hyper. Pyso loved showing off how he was the most powerful hyper in existence. When they came to the clearing, Pyso was immediately met by a sudden burst of arousal just from seeing the Celebi. Biyana meanwhile remained soft. He had to explain to Pyso that Illia's presence was enough to turn on even the most calm and non-sexual of Pokemon. Biyana was less sensitive to the effect because he was around her so much.

Pyso was quick to show off his length, giving Illia all sorts of suggestive remarks and even saying that she should give him a pounding. Of course, neither Biyana or Illia were against having sex with Pokemon other than each other, but Pyso was being pompous. Illia decided to give him a challenge - she asked Pyso to show them just how big he could grow. That was an interesting challenge, but an easy one none-the-less. Pyso grew himself so the others could have a seat on his balls, and when they were nice and comfy he started growing.

Knowing a powerful Mew like Pyso, it didn't take long for the world to be outdone. From country to continent to ocean size, Pyso's cocks grew at an extraordinary rate. Illia and Biyana, cheeky as they were, fed their magic into Pyso's balls. His productivity skyrocketed and he experienced not one but one hundred simultaneous orgasms. Pyso felt they were escalating his growth far too quickly; he jumped up from planet size to solar system size from that single burst of magic. Illia and Biyana disagreed, but Never-the-less left him to his own devices from that point on.

They watched with smug grins as Pyso grew and grew. To anybody but them it would have been the fastest thing ever. That boost they'd given him had sped up the process significantly, but Pyso took the time to enjoy his extreme euphoria. He loved the feeling of everything crashing into his endowments, proving that nothing could stop him. The extremity of his orgasm was becoming clear as his urethra started to bulge out, his cockslit unable to release all he had to offer.

The whole show amused Biyana. He couldn't speak for Illia since, even in their romps, she hadn't revealed how fast she could truly grow, but he was growing restless from how utterly slow Pyso was growing. He asked Illia if he could speed up the process so that they could have their fun, but she reminded him that patience was the virtue of a time traveler. He sat back and tried to enjoy the show, stroking himself but keeping his growth held back. If he let himself slip by accident, he could outgrow Pyso in an instant.

Pyso outgrew the universe before long, crushing everything around him in his gravitational pull. He started orgasming on his own at that point. The climaxes stacked up fast, washing away thousands upon millions of dimensions in a torrent of cum. Orgasms stacked in the thousands, and then in the millions. Pyso sat atop his growing cock and smiled, giving himself a rub. He loved his growing powers so much.

Biyana finally spoke up and asked Pyso to grow faster. This surprised Pyso, but he followed the request and accelerated his growth. His cum proved the dominant force that broke the gravitational barrier of the multiverse. Soon Pyso started washing away even more dimensions. The Mew surpassed plane after plane of existence, obliterating everything within each level. Pretty soon there was nothing left to outgrow, prompting Pyso to slow his growth to a halt.

Illia gave Biyana a smile. NOW they could outgrow him.

Pyso started asking the two of them what they thought of his tremendous growth; how he managed to easily outgrow all of existence. He didn't know how ignorant he was; Illia and Biyana pressed their cocks together and let go of their restraint. Pyso blinked - he only blinked - and his entire vision became obstructed by two enormous walls of flesh. His reaction was slow: first confusion, then pondering, then utter shock at the realization of what he was seeing.

Those were the swollen urethras of Illia and Biyana, both of whom had outgrown him in less than a second.

Not only had the two of them outgrown Pyso, but they'd grown to a size he was having a hard time taking in. The more he tried to sense their immense proportions the more confused his mind got. It was impossible, he refused to believe it! Yet there it was: a size that he could not fathom.

"I only blinked!" Pyso exclaimed. "How?! How did you get so big so fast?"

"You always go around acting all big and tough, thinking you're the biggest thing around. But there's always something or someone better than you." Illia said to him through telepathy, a smug tone in her voice so strong that it was almost insulting. "Maybe there's something bigger than me, but for all I know I'm the biggest. My mate is the second. You're maybe a close third... but you're so, so far behind."

With a chuckle, Biyana said to both of them "Illia, we should stop growing so slow. Why don't we show what WE are capable of?"

"No, let's give Pyso a few moments to try and catch up. I'm curious to see if he can."

Pyso was so shocked it took him a while to process what they'd said. He kept trying to get a grasp of their size. Soon he realized that he wasn't sensing their cocks - Pyso couldn't detect anything more a part of their urethras. The were bulging tremendously with orgasms numbering in the zillions. When he finally straightened out his thoughts, he forced his growing power as high as it would go. Pyso grew at unfathomable rates. Compared to Illia and Biyana, he was not changing a bit. The two bigger Pokemon tried to hold their growth back, humoring Pyso's attempt to reach their size. Yet, they couldn't keep their shafts from throbbing hard. They grew whole dimensions larger with every pulse of their beating hearts. Cum was flowing so hard through their shafts the rumbling that came of it also pleased them. All-and-all, their growth was unstoppable.

Pyso tried for hours, days, months, years to try and catch up to Biyana and Illia but it was impossible. They were too big, and growing so fast without even trying. The time passed so fast in the bigger gods' perspectives.

"Well, I think we've given him long enough, wouldn't you say baby?" Biyana said to Illia.

"I agree. Let's show him what we're truly capable of." Illia replied.

Pyso would feel an even greater force of growth occur in the two bigger gods. Though he couldn't sense how big they were growing, he knew their growth was still happening.

Biyana and Illia grew at the same rate with inconceivable speed. And yet their growth accelerated even further still.

Eventually they grew bored with growth and turned to more lewd games. Illia turned herself around and took Biyana's cock like it was no bigger than his smallest size. Their pleasure surged their growth ever faster. Biyana filled Illia with endless gallons of cum, inflating her belly until it was bigger than either of them combined. She slapped her swollen tummy and watched as it rippled all over.

Biyana pushed himself further in until he hilted Illia, bringing the two of them close enough together to kiss. They shared their love through tongues, passionately showing affection in the highest form. Biyana felt his power surge, growing millions of times bigger every second. Illia, feeling her fertility draining, was able to enhance her growth just as much with her free power. Of course, they both kept growing faster.

Throughout their growth, Biyana had been making his rump grow bigger. On one hand he wanted somebody to hump him, but on the other he didn't want to pull out of his mate's beautiful rear. Upon Illia's suggestion, he called Pyso over.

Pyso floated over to the two tremendous giants, and Illia surprised Pyso with a kiss. The power he felt well up inside of him was incredible; addicting, even! Pyso tried to get more from Illia but she broke the kiss and told him to hump Biyana. Pyso obeyed, positioning himself behind Biyana and growing his cock up to size - it was so rapid! Pyso felt his growth stronger than he ever could have thought possible, even for him!

Desiring to test out his cock immediately, Pyso rammed himself into Biyana and came within seconds. The clever Biyana siphoned all that cum into his balls and, by extension, into Illia so that his belly wouldn't separate them. Biyana and Illia resumed their passionate kiss, growing ever faster as they shared their love. With so much power flowing into Biyana at once, he wasn't able to absorb it all at once and some of it ended up in Pyso.

On and on their growth went, fueled by the bottomless well of fertility that was Illia. Pyso wasn't the biggest Mew in the universe anymore, but he loved growing with big friends even more than being the biggest.
