

Science has gone to far!

Finishing time

Coming home, throwing his bag onto the kitchen chair and heading directly towards the shower the black furred wolf ended another day of hard work in the lab. He was into something breaking, had he found a serum being able to adapt the size of atoms and their bonds into a more compact form - in other words he could make molecules, maybe even more complex structures or maybe - he didn't even dare speaking it out loud organisms shrink. His first tests did not only make him do masses of over shifts but also showed first positive results on synthetic polymers and some form of bacteria. Yet the institute wouldn't allow him to testify his creation on any higher evolved being, which he totally understood. Well anyways, he managed to let one phiole of the serum "vanish" inside his bag in order to do some more private research.

After leaving the shower with his still dripping fur he put his bathrobe on, walked into the kitchen to grab some food from the fridge while looking at the clock. "It's 5 o'clock in the evening?" he was wondering. He had totally forgotten that he spent more than two days straight in the research facility and that today his lovely mate has promised him a romantic surprise. Nevertheless, where was he? He checked his phone for possible missed calls or messages but no sign yet, so he sat down on their couch in the living room. Just as he wanted to turn on the TV for the news, he noticed a letter attached to the remote control. He took it into his paws and read along the lines "Ha! I knew you'd find it here first! I hope you haven't forgotten our date ~ I've prepared everything for you so just make sure you'll arrive at our special place by 6 o'clock, love you ♥"

The meeting

He knew where he was meant to be now, took his coat and left the house. Soon he reached the forest behind the small suburb they were living at, and was surrounded by trees. The air was so much fresher than everywhere else he could remember. Taking in a deep breath, he remembered their very first date in the forest. By that time, he was the one to arrange everything, he collected a tremendous amount of violet flowers for his beloved violet dragon, dropped them in the shape of a heart on the ground...

"Over here" he heard a very familiar voice and had to smile immediately as he turned over to the dragon, who was already sitting on a blanket. Next to the dragon a generous filled picnic basket, a bottle of red wine, bread, cheese, sausages, grapes and a lot more could be seen from his angle. With his tail wagging, he approached his mate, hugging him tightly and giving him a gentle lick right over his snout as he sat down next to Shadow.

Shadow leans over to Karis in order to return the lick sliding his wet tongue once all over the wolf's face making him giggle. "Stop it silly, I've just showered" he replied blinking and kissing his mate eagerly. He lays his paws around the dragon, gently stroking his neck. Soon the kiss is intensified by both closing their eyes and hugging each other close. The wolf's tongue is teasing Shadow's chaps to open up and freeing his tongue. Enjoying the affection his maw opens just enough to slide on Karis' one. Tongue kissing each other they both enjoy the scientist's day off and don't lose any of their precious time together. A dragon's paw wanders down Karis' back until it reaches his Tail whereas he bites carefully yet asking in Shadow's neck. As the birds in the surrounding forest are singing their chants Karis lays himself on Shadow who is making himself comfortable on the blanket, moving the basked out of the way with his tail.

Getting closer

As they both seemed to get more aroused, Karis carefully undresses the upper body of his mate, pulling of his shirt and giving his belly another lick whilst holding his crotch against his, making slow movements. It doesn't take long until he feels the dragon's slit to react to the teasing canine. Both, Shadow and Karis decide to undress each other and continue their intimacy entirely naked. In pleasant anticipation, the slit has meanwhile revealed the tip and a small part of the dragon's shaft as Karis continued rubbing. He smirks lustfully to his mate, licks slowly over his lips and turns his head towards his chest. Slowly the humid tongue wanders down from the chest over the scaled belly forcing even more of Shadow's shaft to show. After repositioning himself, the wolf keeps approaching the source of the male scent he could already smell and licks once again over his chaps in lustful excitement. He proceeds opening his maw, inhales deeply once he's facing the cock, which has shafted out completely in the meantime and coils his tongue around it. A silent moan escapes his mate, who blushes about his willing partner. Shadow lays his paws onto Karis' neck and pets him pushing him gently towards his awaiting member. Nodding and without hesitating he encloses his maw and sucks gently which the dragon awards with a small droplet of sweet tasting pre cum dropping out of his cock. A content sight indicates him that he's on the right way, so he begins moving his head even closer to the slit, taking the cock deeply into the tights of his warm and wet mouth. By that even more pre cum is released, which he seemingly enjoys with his now closed eyes just as the panting dragon who is now moving his crotch rhythmically against the wolf's jaws. Totally enjoying the affection, Shadow stretches, spreading his wings and widening his eyes as his climax comes closer. The cock, being heavily sucked and humped in the canine's maw already twitches. Knowing his mate well, Karis decides bite very gently onto the cock and pushes his tongue against the opening of the tip causing the dragon to roar as he releases his hot and sticky load, which he willingly swallows until the very last drop. Moaning in duet, they wait until the orgasm finishes whilst Karis is enjoying his mouth warm protein shake he just was served. Right after no more semen is released, he starts cleaning the violet, still dripping cock.

"That was great!" the dragon praises still panting. He then leans towards the wolf and decides to give him a kiss onto his forehead. With a skillful move, his tail grabs the picnic basket holding it in front of Karis. "I bet you wouldn't mind something proper to eat now?" he jokingly asks and hands him over a serviette to cleanse the fur around his snout. "Now as you ask, I'm about to starve, so prepare some something, would you? xP"

Dinner and business?

Spreading the content of the basket, soon the green and white striped blanket is filled with all kinds of food the dragon has prepared since early afternoon. Sandwiches, a bowl of tomato cucumber salad, bread alongside with all sorts of toppings like salami, ham and variations of cheese were only a small part of the meal. Fruit salad and pudding as deserts as well as some starters should make the picnic perfect for the couple. With his eyes widely opened, Karis was watching his mate, who placed everything in front of him and was handing him over a graced crystall glass. After opening the bottle of red wine with a loud "plop" he poured it into both glasses starting with his mate's one.

"Cheers" Karis adds and clinks the glasses, taking a nip afterwards. "You even took the sweet one for me?"

"Everything for my love, but now tell me, how have been during the last days? We almost haven't seen us at all due to your silly work...I hope there is at least some kind of progress in your work" a combination of sadness and anger lies in his words.

Karis, who was just about to bite in one of the sandwiches lowers his snout and puts the food away for a moment. He knows that their relationship was the most important thing for him, but he also wanted to achieve something within his research. Sighing he looks his mate into his red eyes and answers, "You know you're my one and only, you are the one who truly matters. Also you know how important the project is to me, I think I finally did it though! If you can keep a secret ~" his eyes are flashing, a grin starts spreading over his face reaching for his trousers in order to grab the phiole to present to his mate.

"See? I extracted it and even I couldn't testify on living beings yet I know I'll work. Just don't tell any one I lend myself some of the probe, or I might lose my job" he makes sure, blinking at shadow holding the small translucent glass tube with two attached black metal chambers at each end - magnetic field generators keeping the fluid from shrinking the tube itself. "It's driving me crazy that my boss doesn't allow any tests and probably won't in near future" He continues annoyed. Meanwhile Shadow just seems overly surprised about everything he was told during the last minutes, so all he is doing now is pointing at the container labeled with a yellow and black warning Label reading 'Danger! Do not turn off magnetic stasis module outside shielded and advised laboratory area. Can cause permanent damage to any source of matter. Handle with absolute care!' with his mouth open

"So you...you created... What's its purpose?" His curiosity breaks the silence and so Karis answers: "let's just say it can shrink pretty much everything. The physics behind it are quite a mess but it is also possible to reverse the effect. Any test would be safe then" a proud smile in his face shows that he finally has achieved what he wanted, he then grabs the sandwich again and gives his mate a kiss "but now let's enjoy this and not talk about my boring work any longer, okay?"

What if?

Carefully Karis puts the tube with greenish liquid inside and an engraved "c" which stood for "compress" back into the pocket of his trousers where another tube rests. This one is filled with a red shining fluid and an "r" written on the glass standing for "reverse" so that it would be possible to tell the effects of the two serums apart. Shadow, who was still about to realize that all he just heard and saw was real and not just a dream. Rubbing his eyes, he drinks out of his wine glass and wonders: "so you mean that it's already in its final state? You could just apply it onto something and it would shrink?"

Nodding content, Karis says agrees. "Totally. All I need would be a testing object I can bring in contact to the serum and the antidote. I've done the math and any damage is out of question as long as the contact with the antidote is within one hour after shrinking. Anything afterwards will have the atomic bounds and the atoms self settled at their new size so that they can't be changed back later." He explains: "why are you asking?"

Having a risky idea, Shadow continues, "Well as you want to test your invention...why not becoming your own test specimen? I mean I could make you grow right afterwards. You just told me there is no danger, so why not?" Karis seems to be rapidly thinking about the plan his mate just proposed. After a while, he smiles and likes the chance to finally not only test his invention but also experience it first-hand.

"Alright! Let's do it and write history ~ If you want we can also go for a second round as long I'm shrunk, I mean if my then small tongue is pleasing you enough hehe"

"You would...? When you're shrunk? That's so nice of you ~" the surprised dragon stutters as he blushes. Karis just gives him a kiss as reply and whispers into his ear hole "of course, I love you and you are really helping me a lot with my research, so I think you kinda deserve it"

Little one down under

The scientist takes a phiole in each of his front paws and gives Shadow a short instruction on how to work with the fluids. "Let's do this quick, but please pay attention to what I tell you, okay? First, this one will make me become about 2% of my original size, so I will be no bigger than roughly 5 cm after the process is completed. Applying the red serum will reverse it but you have to watch the time. If you wait more than an hour there is no back for me, did you understand that?!"

"Yes, not more than an hour, I got it"

"Fine, I'll show you how to open the containers next. Do you see the buttons on the magnetic field projectors? Push both simultaneously to switch off the field and then you can take off the cover and pour the content onto me. You have to use all of it, so we only got one chance for this test. But I'm confident everything will work out fine" Ending his short guide on how to use experimental size shifting liquids, Karis opens the tube with the shrinking serum, holds it over his head and starts pouring everything over his fur. He proceeds massaging the substance in his fur, which starts glowing in an unnatural looking green. An enjoyable warmth starts spreading all over his body accompanied by a tickling. Staring in Shadow's direction, he waits for the effect to kick in when suddenly the dragon seems getting bigger.

"It works! Fuck yeah, I'm shrinking!" he shouts as his body is slowly becoming smaller in front of his mate. Shadow still can't believe what his eyes are seeing and mumbles "you... You are... It does work". Karis meanwhile is becoming rapidly smaller and smaller until after a few more seconds the process stops shrinking him as he now has about the size of Shadow's paws. Standing on the blanket wagging his tail he's moving towards the dragon.

"Now as the first step worked, would you mind laying down on your back? I think we've got an interesting hour to spend ~"

As soon as Shadow has found the desired position, the young scientist heads towards the lower body of the dragon, aiming for his tail. The few decimeters separating him from the beginning of the tail now are several times the length of his body, the high of the tail itself means that he has to jump on it. Shadow observes the wolf with a wide grin on his face and can't stop himself from giggling, "want me to help?"

"Nah it's fine, just relax and enjoy what comes next ~" he says positioning his muzzle over Shadow's tail hole nosing his scent. After closing his eyes, thinking about all the possible things the both could do now with their size difference he quickly remembers that if he doesn't hurry up, he would have to stay the size for the rest of his life. Knowing that he takes a deep breath and lowers his nose over the opening, slowly rubbing it. Spreading his legs and moving his tail to the side, Shadow reacts to the canine's tongue licking gently over the hole, making it slightly wet. Turned on by the dragon's masculine scent, Karis soon finds himself pushing his snout against the opening, rubbing and licking more intensive. He couldn't hide how much the dominant looking dragon turned him on, even more as a size altered mini wolf, who is exposed to a tail hole bigger than himself his instincts took over the control. He couldn't resist rimming the dragon with full devotion and even pushing his tongue inside his opening.

"Mraawr that feels great~" Shadow moans and starts fingering his slit in pleasure. He hasn't imagined a shrunk wolf rimming him half as good and he has just begun yet. "Go on!" Karis, who fell in some sort of hormone-guided ecstasis wouldn't be happier to please his mate now and so he continues, pushing his whole muzzle for a little bit inside the dragon's rear ending, licking his insides eager with the small tongue. Enjoying the wolf's caress, the long tail slowly rolls and coils around the furred body whilst the draconic cock shafts out. Being held so tight, Karis closes his eyes as Shadow helps rubbing the muzzle against the anal opening with his tail, panting aroused. He feels how it's opening up a bit as he is pushed further inside. Moaning, the violet dragon forces the small wolf deeper inside the hot and wet tunnel where he keeps rubbing and licking willingly, making the shaft to shaft out completely already. Feeling the tight hole around his waist, Karis gets pushed even deeper inside only to be pulled out and pushed in again shortly after. Sighing loudly, he enjoys getting used as his mate's personal toy and rubs his entire upper body against the warm fleshy walls. Teasing the new, temporary toy, the anal muscle clenches a few times before the dragon continues using the living dildo for his personal pleasure.

"Ngrrr I hope you're fine down there" Shadow asks after repeatedly letting disappear most of the wolf and pulling him out again. Pre cum started dropping out of his hardened cock and drool his running down his chaps as a result of his arousal.

"Oh yeah, it's.. it's unbelievable hot being your... toy" Karis says shyly and wags his tail.

"Good, I think you've done enough down there~" says the lusty dragon, pulling him out harsh and quickly, almost throwing him in front of his large cock "you still have to do the important job before our time is up" He spurs the wolf, pushing him with his tail against the shaft "tick tack"

Karis doesn't know if it was there where he noticed something different in Shadow's behavior or if it was even before, but somehow he appeared very sex driven and egoistic compared to normal. Anyway, he wouldn't be the killjoy also he wasn't in the position of telling the dragon what to do and what not to do - spoken literally and so he followed his rules.

A misunderstanding?

With his nose being held against the meaty shaft, Karis slowly starts licking over it whilst laying both his front paws around it. He starts rubbing with his paws and tightly hugs the cock under strict supervision. Trying his best and using his entire body, the dragon still doesn't seem to be satisfied enough and that's why he puts his own paw entirely around his shaft, squeezing his little fellow against his flesh.

"Hey D: watch out!" a muffled voice escapes the tight grasp as the dragon starts stroking his cock. Without even paying attention to the small wolf, he huffs and keeps getting more excited as his tip releases its first drops of pre cum which eventually runs down the shaft onto Karis' snout. Trying to lean against the paw, he puts out his hands with the only effect of making Shadow pant even more. He enjoys the living toy just too much to stop now totally forgetting the fact that it is his mate, he is exploiting here. The grasp gets even tighter with his paw moving faster but eventually the movement stops. Even the paw opens to free the wolf, something he uses to inhale deeply, noticing his mate is looking straight at him.

"Only one more thing, okay?" He says in a surprisingly friendly voice lifting Karis carefully in front of his wet tip. "Would you mind giving it a few gentle licks? I will do you any favor afterwards ~" As much as Karis wanted to believe his mate spoke the truth, he knew he was having something else in mind. After years of living together with him, he could sense that there was something he was up to.

„Fine... I already know what you'll gonna do"

Karis replies and lets his tongue slip over the dripping tip. The bittersweet pre is covering his entire tongue and as soon as the tip is cleaned, at least the same amount of fresh pre cum has been released - a lot of work for the little one. He thoroughly licks over the tip even pushing the tongue a bit into the opening of the tip, which seems to widen up for the intruder, leaving more space.

"What is it you want?" His mate wants to know, licking evilly over his chaps and putting one of his claws into Karis' neck, making his muzzle touch the opening

"I want you to make me come after all this! It's the least you can do after using my as your toy even though I insisted to test my invention. But enough is enough"

"Interesting..." a short but very inconvenient break makes the wolf become nervous when suddenly the claw starts pushing him against the dragon's tip, which is elastic enough to slide over his muzzle, covering his fur in pre cum.

"But if you want me to make you cum, I will help you with pleasure ~"

Merciless the wolf is shoved down the further inside the cock, his head has soon disappeared in the musky and sticky tunnel, his hind paws are struggling heavily only making him slide deeper into his destination.

"You can't just sit here and put me inside your cock! Don't let your sexual urge be stronger than your love. Remember, we came here to have picnic"

He tries to persuade his mate by all means. Shadow, opposed to his just smirks as he pushes Karis deeper into his cock, grabs a few grapes and stares at the bulged at his shaft.

"You are so right; it would be a shame to waste the food. I've been standing way to long in the kitchen"

After more than the half of Karis meanwhile has disappeared in the cock, struggling has become useless for Karis. He feels how he just sinks in deeper and deeper, slowly reaching his final destination: Shadow's balls. The smell of the cum already has become overwhelming for the little one and his mate breaking his heart, devouring him only to fulfill his pure pleasure making fun of him at the same time doesn't make it any better. Soon his hind paws and the tail are the only parts left to swallow for the lusty dragon. Leaning forward he takes his tip into his mouth, pushing his tongue against Karis' paws making him completely disappear. It doesn't take long for him until also his lower body arrives at Shadow's balls. Hot and sticky cum has already drenched his fur completely in this hot and tight prison cell. From the outside, he can feel the dragon's tongue sensing the trapped body, licking over the bulge the wolf is creating.

Still not knowing if he should be angry, disappointed or sad, Karis pushes against the ball sac "what's wrong with you? Leave me out and tell me what made you do this!"

Leaning back, snacking and sipping of his drink, his mate burps hearty. "Oh I'll let you out. When you've the right consistency. In addition, asking where I got the idea from? Feeling your little body inside my tail hole and then your tongue inside my cock... I just had to. It was too tempting ~" he says shuddering and stroking his cock

"You know what? I'm done with you!" Karis screams. The stuffy air and the excitement are so exhausting for the wolf so that he has to yawn and roll up for a while. Since entering the cock, he had difficulties breathing.

"Now you're unfair. You are already done when I've barely started yet? But I guess it's okay as I'm the bigger one here hehe. Enjoy your sleep, soon you'll become my dragon seed ~" He mumbles with a full maw, infesting the left overs of the picnic. Karis hasn't even had a chance of replying, his body couldn't stand the stress and lack of oxygen any longer and so he fell asleep.

Work-related promotion

After emptying his balls during his first relief where Karis still was normal sized, Shadow's testicles have become more active which means a higher production of cum. When entering the dragon's cock - willing or not - the wolf found himself in a rather empty place where the cum barely reached his ankles. Since he fell asleep though, Shadow has not stopped stroking his cock, advising the reproductive organ to produce more of the sticky cum which is slowly but steadily soaking Karis fur and rising in his balls. Soon the little fellow is totally drenched with the warm semen creating some kind of 'protective film' around him. The testicles keep up with their production and lead to a still rising amount of cum, which slowly fills the balls up until the wolf is almost completely drown.

Anyway, somehow Shadow's body seems to have detected that there is a foreign body inside his balls, making his immune system interact now. At first, nothing happens for quite a while, but then the warm layer around Karis starts getting even hotter. Not enough, the once so sticky and tasteful semen become aggressive; they now start to fight against the intruder, making his skin burn and trigger an allergic reaction at the wolf. The white fluid gets more powerful with every moment it is in contact with the mammal, it has even started processing his fur and penetrating his skin. Karis, who has meanwhile passed out due to a massive shortage of oxygen luckily doesn't feel anything of what's happening with him. His entire body begins to smoothen resulting from the intensive contact with the dragon's cum. Over time, his body deforms more and more as he melts inside the balls. Apparently, Shadow's body has found the most effective form for Karis to dispose of him and so the process goes on, making the wolf become more liquid. His muzzle and tail already have decomposed and trickled of into the rest of the cum, a destiny his remainder will follow eventually.

Feeling his balls filling up, Shadow lays down, still beating his meat "That's a good mate"

Once again, his arousal gains control over him, making him rub his shaft faster. Moaning he approaches his climax in huge steps just to the moment where his mate has finally become one with his seed, only that his deep black fur has dyed it grey. Shadow bites his lips, pawing off forceful, still holding the tube in his other paw. Smirking he pulls the container over his twitching cock, humps a few times against it and then finally comes into it, roaring loud and lustful while the tube fills with the remains of his partner. The dragon has not even finished yet but the container already leaks, as it's full to bursting, so he decides to cover the ground with the rest of his cum. As the orgasm has come to an end, Shadow takes the lid of the tube, closed it and gives the whole device a kiss. "We should have tested that long before" he jokingly says before packing the food and blanket back into the basket, dressing himself afterwards and putting the tube in his pockets. "Maybe I'll keep you as souvenir~"
