

Fuel of the Soul

Passions rise while people listen, used in war and the kitchen.

Both of good, and of evil; different sounds for different people.

From Rock and Pop, to Classical and Electro, people define what they find peaceful.

Though it soothes the savage beast, it can spark a violent crescendo.

Shattering the boundaries of race and culture, music is a beautiful reminder that we are not vultures.

Play the cello, or the guitar; music will always take you far.
