

Name: Ixaka/Dash Asmodeus.

Species: Alien/Demon Goat Hybrid (Anthro).

Sexuality: Pansexual.

Preferred Role: Switch. (Bottom Leaning if Ixaka, Top Leaning if Dash)

Age: 22.

Gender/Sex: Male.

Height: 6 ft.

Appearance: He's quite the chubby individual who's a bit more overweight (with that said, he can walk and run). He has a large ass with a big, puffy anus and huge moobs that almost looks like breasts, according to his wife. He also has a big, lengthy cock with huge balls that makes Rammy blush. His eyes are blue, his entire fur is colored white, he has two short horns that curls back, and a long arrow-like tail similar to an imp's. Whenever he switches to his other self, Dash, his whole fur changes into the color red along with his horns and tail. His eyes becomes pure, glowing red. He still remains chubby, however. Both sides of him has a long, pink tongue with a fork-like end. He has humanoid feet with three toes, having either red or white toeclaws depending on his sides. He has five fingers with white or red nails (also forms claws when switching to Dash). He also has a wedding ring on his left hand, signifying his marriage status with Millo. His clothing of choice are random, and whenever he's home with Rammy and friends, he goes around nude due to Rammy having a thing for chubbiness.

Abilities: As mentioned before, Ixaka has two sides of himself. He can switch between himself and Dash by will, though it takes a lot of practice for him to control the switching as he gets older. Despite being chubby, he's capable of doing a lot of flexible things such as back-flips and splits thanks to his genes cooperating with his thoughts. His tongue and tail are not only used for sexual activities, but also for any combat he engages in. He also moves incredibly fast whenever he switches to Dash, rivaling that with a naturally fast being. He can use his sharp claws to defend himself as well.

Likes:

Ixaka and Dash's Likes: Their friends, their wife, their parents, nudity (especially around their friends and wife), feeling welcomed, food (almost any kinds), kissing, hugging, and gazing at the stars during the night.

Ixaka's Likes: Loafing around, playing videogames, playing chess with others, vegetable salad, pizza, burger, and imagining random things in his head.

Dash's Likes: Playing harmless pranks on others, jogging with Krimson, nibbling on someone's neck during sex (Millo enjoys this a lot), fruit salad, chicken wings, teriyaki chicken, and sitting on Rammy's face while caressing him with his feet during sex.

Dislikes:

Ixaka and Dash's Dislikes: Seeing their loved ones getting hurt (especially their wife), being forced into scenarios they're not comfortable with, being manipulated and poked fun of, being belittled for who they are, disturbing and grotesque things, and cabbage.

Ixaka's Dislikes: His job, wired headphones, and stumbling his words whenever he talks.

Dash's Dislikes: Failed pranks, wireless headphones, and waiting patiently for something to happen.

Personality: Ixaka, his true side, is a shy and friendly individual who likes to loaf around a lot in his life. Whenever he actually does something, he uses that energy to play videogames and chess with his friends and his wife. Despite being lazy, he helps Rammy and Krimson pay the bills in the house via working at a job he admittedly isn't that fond of. He's also a bit clingy to Rammy since he's the one that helped him fit into New Earth when he was in middle school. His other side, Dash, is a completely different story. He's a hyperactive and feisty individual who enjoys playing harmless pranks on others and jogging with Krimson. His impatient behavior can lead him to being rude to others, though he does apologize afterwards. That impatient behavior does turn Rammy and Krimson on whenever he has sex with them, which he's aware of and becomes mischievous with it.

Background: Ixaka used to live on a planet filled with his species. Everyone shared the same condition he has: Being born with two sides of themselves. They can also be born with wings or not, to which Ixaka wasn't born with. Due to the planet's economy not doing so well along with containing many unfortunate events, his parents left the planet after his father pursued towards his path of becoming an animator and his mother wanting to become a therapist. As a kid, he struggled to developed friends in school due to not knowing how to properly control his sides. Everyone was bullying and harassing him for being weird and crazy, to which Dash responded with aggressiveness. Then one day in middle school, he met Rammy, who's grown to like him for who he is. Since then, Ixaka has been opening up more and learned how to control his sides, thanks to Rammy. Although, he still struggled to get along with others when he reached high school. He and Rammy talked on an online server to ease themselves from the struggles there, especially during senior year. The two met Krimson this way, whom they love to chat with. Rammy used to be the only one comforting Ixaka in his darkest of times until Millo came into his life. She shared similar characteristics with Ixaka, including being chubby. This soon developed a bond between the two, becoming lovers. After graduating from high school and moving into a house with Rammy and Krimson, the two married each other and became a happier couple since. His parents also supported him for his decisions and hoped he find success in his life.
