

Name: Ebony Salem.

Species: Anubian Jackal (Anthro - Deity).

Sexuality: Pansexual.

Preferred Role: Dominant. (Top)

Age: 10,000.

Gender/Sex: Female.

Height: 11 ft.

Appearance: She has a long, curly black hair with yellow egyptian jewelry wrapped around the front. Her eyes are colored yellow, with black sclera surrounding them. She has jewelries on her body parts, which includes: Her ears (earrings), wrists (bracelets), and ankles (bracelets), all are colored yellow of course. She has mainly dark fur with yellow nails on her fingers and yellow toeclaws on her feet. Speaking of her feet, they're humanoid feet with yellow pawpads and five toes. And she has a voluptuous asset to the point where her big ass jiggles after each walks. Her clothing of choice mainly consists of a red gown dress with a see-through that shows her breasts, which are huge (G cup). She also wears red glasses and carries a blue staff with a green gem at the tip of it. When going to a business office job, she wears a gray formal suit with blue heels.

Abilities: Due to naturally being born as a deity, she's capable of extraordinary powers. Such powers includes superhuman strength, telekinesis, levitation, and strong enough endurance to resist pain. She can travel between dimensions, thanks to the staff given to her from her parents. And she shoots energy beams from her eyes, which is a deadly 50/50 on whether it stuns the opponent or obliterates them. When lowering her powers to that of mortals, she relies on swinging her staff or forming sharp claws to slash at her enemies.

Likes: Typing on the computer, Rammy and his friends, yoga, sightseeing, admiring the history of New Earth, traveling between dimensions, french fries, kebab, pressing her feet against someone's face, footrubbing someone's balls and cock, having dominance during sex, and flying a kite.

Dislikes: Rudeness and sarcasm, someone harming her friends and family, being stuck in one dimension, getting her clothes dirty, pineapple, rape (will actually murder someone over it), being rudely waken up from her sleep, and sodas.

Personality: Stoic, calm, and incredibly demanding is what others described her as. Ebony is a quiet, observant person that tends to keep many thoughts to herself. She isn't the most vocal type among the Rammy group, but that doesn't mean she lacks passion. She enjoys her duty at CUMs, typing away on her computer while her boss and friend, Pearl, crafts a meeting coming up with the latest milk installment. When not busy at her fulltime job there, she hangs at the nearby gym to do some yoga practices, sometimes even seeing Lupus and Terra being there (and ending up having sex with them at one of the private rooms occasionally). While she may display an uptight and nonchalant behavior, she'll be caring and considerate towards those she deems worthy of her trust.

Background: Ebony grew up traveling between several dimensions with her parents. She's gotten the privileged to see all sorts of wacky, creative, and downright perplexing places. The journeys her family has been through was what lead her to love dimension hopping, taking years to eventually master it. The staff was given to her by her parents after she finally mastered the dimension hopping, leading her to be quite happy about it. Or at least, try to appear as such. You see, she always had trouble fully admitting to her enjoyment on something, often giving off mixed signals towards others as a result. Eventually, her family settled down in New Earth: Where they've gotten to meet Tiras in person via her Illusious Castle. Once her parents chose a place to stay in, which is North Nookwill, Ebony took some time to consider what she'll do in this new planet they're chilling in. She then decides to move out of the town and head over to Soothern City since she admittedly gained interest in the Crafting Universal Milks company due to their rather provocative acronym. Once there, she's gotten to meet the boss at the place and the two ended up going at it along with a few employees lucky enough to partake in the intercourse. This was when Ebony realized she's into teasing folks with her well endowed assets and feet during sexual pleasures. She happily worked at CUMs as long as she's able to sit on her coworker's face while working occasionally, which her boss abides by. Ebony also met Pearl along the way, the duo quickly becoming friends with benefits after hanging out together at a nearby bar that one night. She did managed to save Pearl onetime from an asshole deity that tried to have sex with her without her consent, having them be arrested and sent to a prison monitored by other deities (this sparked her hatred towards rape). Once the boss of CUMs retired, Pearl became the new boss of it and appointed Ebony as the assistant manager. She's been living a nicer life since then, especially after getting to know Rammy and his lovely batch of horny friends.
