

Name: Tenos Ymmar.

Species: Zorua (Anthro).

Sexuality: Bisexual.

Preferred Role: Switch.

Age: 21.

Gender/Sex: Male.

Height: 5.7 ft. in.

Appearance: He has the typical black color scheme, and a small fluffy tail along with large fluffy ears much like any other Zoruas. He's relatively a slim person with a big cock, balls, and ass along with a puffy anus to have any person be intrigued by him. He has green eyes with bangs covering his left one, and blue piercings on his nipples and ears along with having sharp teeth. He has black mane that shrouds around his neck and chest like any other Zoruas, and he has five fingers with red fingernails on them. He also has three toes on his feet, with red toeclaws being on them along with having black pawpads underneath them. He tends to be shirtless whenever he's at home with Rammy and others, wearing only his red shorts. Otherwise, he'd wear a blue shirt during public. He also wears white stockings on his arms and legs when he's feeling needy or wanted to only wear those. (Non-Canon: Much like Rammy, Tenos has a twunk form that makes him develop abs and biceps along with forming a blue lipstick.)

Abilities: He can use Pokemon moves like Night Daze and Knock Off to help defend himself in fights. He can also use his Illusion ability to change his appearance if necessary. Besides those two things, he can also change his gender/sex at will, thanks to being a clone of Rammy. Male, female, any of the intersex, and even be a guy with boobs (not moobs): He can do these with little problems. He also carried over the infertile condition that Rammy has along with cumming at an excessive and hyper rate, which tends to bother him sometimes. He can also form claws to slash his opponent with and utilizes his karate techniques to get the upper hand on his foe.

Likes: Rammy (even if he's being stubborn about showing it), his friends, sex, eating ramen noodles, juice beverages, hamburgers with only mayonnaise, spaghetti, traveling around the world, learning about new things, other clones that relates to him (especially after meeting Alice Lupa), candies, practicing his fighting skills, and reading books (including ones from Rammy).

Dislikes: Rape, his friends being harmed, ice cream, popcorn, cumming at random (he has a hard time controlling his erecting cock), being involved in fights, drugs and alcohol, and doing nothing.

Personality: Tenos is considered the quiet, stubborn type of person: Only ever talks with others when others talked to him first. He's not the humorous type much like his original counterpart, Rammy, but he is caring however. He thinks about the wellbeing of others and even likes to discover new things about the world he's in. He can process stuff pretty slowly compared to others, sometimes being put off guard when encountering a fact about someone that has them do something he didn't expect (such as seeing someone who doesn't like ice cream eating vanilla ice cream). Despite how quiet he may be, he still chooses to hang with his buddies and even has sex with them because much like Rammy, he loves sex, even if he's being a bit stubborn to admit it.

Background: Tenos was formed from a science lab experiment. Rammy was assigned in his biology class to look over the clone juice produced by a scientist way back then, studying the phenomenon of cloning and why the scientist did it. The Zorua didn't know that some of the juice went into his fruit punch, something he should've prevented by not drinking in the class like he supposed to. Nonetheless, Tenos was formed because of this, and Rammy happily aided him along the way. Tenos wasn't willing to get along with others at first until he warmed up to Rammy bits by bits while at Rammy parents' home during the time, the two bonding with each other afterwards. Due to the cloned Zorua not having a home of his own, he lived with Rammy after he moved into Soothern Creek with him, Ixaka, Crimson, and Millo. Till this day, he's still getting used to the world he lives in, even going as far as partaking in sexual activities to better understand it.
