

Ryt's Rants #3

Ryt's Rants #3

Panel 1

Ryt is seen bent over with his body leaning to the left of the panel as his hands are planted on the border. Only his body can be seen. His head is off panel. He is grunting and cursing with the effort of getting it unstuck.

"Damn her, damn her, damn her! Why did she do this to me! I make one small comment about how small my ears look and she goes overboard the other direction trying to be funny!"

Panel 2

The ranting monologue overlaps into this panel. Ryt now has one foot planted on the wall, trying even harder to extricate himself from his predicament.

"Now I get earaches from hearing everything around me down to the tiniest sound. I can't hold my head upright cause of the extra weight and I can't..."

Panel 3 $ 4

Ryt finally frees his head and is thrown backwards as it pops through the panel wall on the left. He crashes through the wall on the right and lands on the ground with a crashing thud.

"...get my damn head through the freakin' Doooooooooooooooooor!"

Panel 5

Finally standing he dusts himself off while continuing with the unending stream of dialogue.

"As you can see she made my ears freakishly HUGE all in the name of humor and I don't even know when she's going to return them to normal!"

Panel 6

Ryt's bottom half is all that can be seen as a strong wind is caught by his huge ears and easily kites him off into the distance.

"What the HELL! Get me down now! Buni! Fix my ears dammit! This isn't funny! This hurts! Anyone even thinks of singing "Sailing Away" I'm going to kill theeeeeeeeeeeem!"