Sajin Komamura: I'm Sajin Komamura the Captain from Soul Society where Soul Reaper is. Well... I start wander this world then I saw you as you fighting the monster called "Hollow" or something.

Valor: I wasn't fighting against Hollow. I was training to test out my weapons on boulders.

Sajin: Oh okay. You got skills and fighting spirit. Where did you learn that?

Valor: lower his spear then spins it and holds it with one hand My father and mother train me which I'm a warrior who master every type of weapons and the name Valor the Wolf God.

Sajin: Interesting from your family and quite fitting name. Are you a legend?

Valor: You could say I was actually a hero who saved the world such as battle against demons, giants, monsters and whatever the world in danger threat.

Sajin: Ah the legendary hero who saved the world indeed. Mind I could have a spar with you, Valor?

Valor: May I ask why you want to spar with me?

Sajin: I want to test you to see if you worthy or not.

Valor: Well just to warn you I not holding back so I suggest you do the same, Sajin Komamura.

Valor quickly swap weapons from his Omega Demon Wolf Fang (spear) to Ultimate Fenrir Weapon (wolf blades) start with both wolf blades as a dual wielder then his eyes glows as it turn to red instead golden-yellow as he transforms into Demon Wolf God form his hair turn white with dark black and red streaks and it grow longest flowing then his whole clothes changes into demonic outfits even his new fiery flowing longer cape that wasn't there before and having black and red lightning aura engulfing around his entire body then having symbols and tattoos on his bicep, pecs, abs and bead necklaces.

Sajin: looks at Valor Is that your new form?

Valor: ... vanishes out of sight and leaving lightning trail with his godly speed

Sajin: blinks as he looks around to track on him <Damn where the hell he went? Did that form increased his power and speed?>

Valor rushes faster toward Sajin then performs impossible longest combo with his wolf blades with electric effects while Sajin try his best to keep blocking with sword. Valor putting lots of pressure just by continuously nonstop combo without using his stamina or getting tired as Sajin still blocking but seems to struggles as he can't find a way to counter at this Wolf God new form. Sajin: You not...? I mean you're the fastest and strongest I could ever face with...

Valor: reverts back to normal form I know. The fight is over. I have no intentions to kill you because it would be pointless to have nobody to spar with. puts away his weapons and turns around then put his hand on Sajin's back having both water and light aura as he healing him as blood and scars on his body is healed completely

Sajin: gasps and seems surprised then looks at Valor Did you heal me but why?

Valor: I not a violence type as you may know about. Well I must be going now and thanks for sparring with me. about to walk away

Valor: No problem. I know you hungry so I already fix it at the table in dining room.

Sajin: Oh okay I do need to eat to regain my strength then.

They headed to dining room then Sajin sits on chair by table as the plate that Valor fix it is already made and hot too. Sajin start praying then amen and thank Valor for his honor and kindness then start eating. After finish eating, Valor and his little brother Cade cleaning until everything done then three headed outside to training area to start their training. Sajin asks Valor about his appearance form and power from battle but Valor tend to keep it a secret and such so asking or convincing would be difficult for the wolf god. Sajin seem to want to teach Valor how to use Benkai which Valor already mastered it having giant wolf by his side as he known to the legendary Wolf God.
