

His dragon brother. Bonding with Bergamo

Valor is alone in the flower field as he seem to be training with his bo staff as he perform combo swinging horizontal releases silver energy wave as long range attack. Bergamo walking through woods then see Valor at the field training as he decided to check him. Valor continue training as he closes his eyes and concentrate with silver lightning aura around his body then vanishes out of sight.

Bergamo: blinks as he look around for him -Where did he go?-

Valor: appears out of nowhere next to Bergamo with bo staff at his face as his eyes glow silvery

Bergamo: eyes wide and ears perks up Brother wait it's me!

Valor: eyes stop glowing and his lightning aura calm down Oh it's you Bergamo. What you doing here alone? Where your brothers that you use to be together?

Bergamo: I came to check on you. My brothers still training at the camp with other wolves.

Valor: I see. You don't need to check on me of what I doing...

Bergamo: I know. Is it okay for me to talk with you, brother?

Valor: What you want to talk about?

Bergamo: Are you the strongest?

Valor: What kind of question you asking me for?

Bergamo: I just want to know you because you look like the strongest warrior.

Valor: I guess you could say that. I happen to be a Wolf God warrior and a fighter.

Bergamo: nods I did saw you using aura but your aura is different somewhat.

Valor: How my aura different?

Bergamo: Well... On match with Goku and I as we both fight. He turn golden aura then blue aura.

Valor: blinks Hmm if I remember correctly then it's Super Saiyan then SSGSS or Super Saiyan Blue transformation that Goku use.

Bergamo: That's what it called?

Valor: Yes and I take it you lost from him?

Bergamo: Yes...

Valor: sighs You need to train more if you want to beat Goku.

Bergamo: I would but brother will it be possible for you to beat Goku?

Valor: I haven't met or fought him before I'm afraid.

Bergamo: Ah I see.

Valor: Why you want me to fight Goku, Bergamo?

Bergamo: He brought the entire universes about the tournament and Zeno agrees.

Valor: What?

Bergamo: It's the Tournament of Power. Gonna have ten fighters to participate if all ten are out of ring then Zeno will wipe out the universes and that's it.

Valor: Sounds kind of serious if you ask but the tournament is over, right?

Bergamo: Yeah it's over.

Valor: Well then you shouldn't be worry. Just be glad your universe and others are restored from the super dragon ball wish.

Bergamo: I suppose you're right, brother.

Valor: sits and looks at the sky

Bergamo: sits next to Valor and looks at sky too You don't seem to be afraid.

Valor: Why you ask?

Bergamo: Aren't you worried If this universe will be obliterate?

Valor: Not really it's not like if the earth would be a threat for any unknown visitors to come take over the world.

Bergamo: Have you fought someone who trying to take over this universe?

Valor: I have but it's been long time.

Bergamo: You did? Please tell me how you did save the universe from threats, brother?

Valor: Well... It's between dragons and wolves that I gather them then my old rival and brother Vash came to my side to fight. A giant beast known as king behemoth came to this earth with his giant spaceship and attempt to take over the universe. Vash and I then our members enter his spaceship and confront king behemoth then we fight together as teamwork and won.

Bergamo: Interesting. Then what happened?

Valor: Our members left the ship which leave Vash and I then the wounded king behemoth set off the self-destruct on his ship which not only blow his ship up but the earth as well.

Bergamo: That sneaky bastard I thought he's defeated...

Valor: He is but he still dirty and nasty trick up his sleeve.

Bergamo: How did you and your brother survive?

Valor: Since he disabled the escape pod I used teleportation ability on Vash to send him back to the earth which leave myself and king behemoth until countdown for self-destruct. I have to use powerful teleport to move whole giant spaceship far far away from the earth to space.

Bergamo: Now I worry about you but how, brother...?

Valor: I try not to panic and stay focus just before the ship self-destruct I concentrated and discover new power then sudden my hair now has silver streaks and it create powerful barrier around my body.

Bergamo: gasps A new power and your hair then barrier?

Valor: I not sure what kind of power I have use but... I heard someone voice on my mind and it told me never to give up.

Bergamo: I wonder who told you but I'm glad you're alive brother. We thought you are gone for good or just disappeared and never to be seen again.

Valor: Hmf it's gonna take a wolf god to kill me but I do have my brothers who I deeply humbly cared and watch over me...

Bergamo: That's very generous which show you really do care about your brothers.

Valor: Hmm I hope Vash doesn't feel emotional about the spaceship blow up tragic.

Bergamo: Care to tell me about Vash?

Valor: He is my dragon brother as we both sparring for long years ago.

Bergamo: I didn't know you have your dragon as brother. Is he a warrior like you, brother?

Valor: We both are as fighters and warriors.

Bergamo: So I was right. I finally get a chance to see you. I see why you have potential.

Valor: My potential?

Bergamo: Mm-hmm.

Valor: What do you mean?

Bergamo: Its you have a warrior spirit on you and you seem to continue training no wonder my brothers and I have hard time sparring you. You haven't go full potential and beaten us in no problem at all.

Valor: Well I have fighting spirit as I know what you mean. I continue training everyday as it's my routine with no break. That's because I been holding back... I don't want to hurt you and your brothers.

Bergamo: Hmm... I can see why you're holding back and I understand that you do care about us.

Valor: ...

Bergamo: It's okay brother. I can tell you are very overprotective to your brothers even I do same to my brothers too.

Valor: If you mean Basil and Lavender as your brothers then that make you the oldest brother. Not only you care about them but you do care about your universe as well if anything bad happens.

Bergamo: That's right. It seems you know already. I can tell you're the oldest, strong leadership and highly intelligent.

Valor: I am.

The sky gotten dark as it's nighttime then having lots of stars and full moon is there. Valor lie back down on the grass while Bergamo get on giant wolf Valor's massive pecs and lie on them as it's comfortable then both wolves look at each other. Bergamo look at Valor's necklaces he been wore.

Bergamo: Is your necklaces seem special to you, brother?

Valor: What about it?

Bergamo: You seem to wear it and haven't taken it off not even once.

Valor: That's because my father give me when I was mature just when he is a leader.

Bergamo: Oh. Your father must be a proud leader.

Valor: He is. That's why I would not take my necklaces off. Since you asked I do recalled you haven't take your scarf off either?

Bergamo: Sometimes. My scarf is quite special and stylish, huh?

Valor: It is but how long have you been wore it?

Bergamo: I guess I been wore it too long.

Valor: Not to judge or no offense but I think you and your brothers whatever you wear are seem kind of worn out and ragged like y'all haven't wore anything new at all.

Bergamo: I understand and I respect you, brother.

Valor: You not upset what I said?

Bergamo: No but I know I been on my universe way too long without change of our clothes...

Valor: Well I could make new clothes for you and your brothers if you like.

Bergamo: You could do it for us?

Valor: Mhmm I may be a warrior but I do have other skills like tailor.

Bergamo: Ah that make sense that you can do anything.

Valor: Yes.

Bergamo: You got it from your father?

Valor: No, why would my dad do such clothes and sewing?

Bergamo: Ah my bad so it's your mother then.

Valor: My mother taught me everything like hobbies while my father training me.

Bergamo: That's very nice to have your parents to help you. I wish if I have real parents...

Valor: Hmm? You don't have your parents or someone to take care you and your brothers?

Bergamo: laid his face on Valor's pecs as he seem sad No, I'm afraid we don't or remember having our parents...

Valor: feels sorry as he look at Bergamo I know how you feel, Bergamo... Cade is like that too. He doesn't remember anything nor have his real parents in the past so I took care of him...

Bergamo: Hmm I see... He must be taking care and you shown that he really cared about you, Valor.

Valor: Yeah but don't feel sad. I see why you want to talk to me.

Bergamo: nod I want to bond with you.

Valor: blinks I know people ask me for bonded but why you ask?

Bergamo: Please help me and my brothers to be stronger like you.

Valor: I know but why you want to bond with me?

Bergamo: It's a relationship to spend time with you.

Valor: Oh I see. You can spend time with me for now, brother.

Bergamo: Thank you, brother.

Valor and Bergamo start cuddles close then noses like wolf brothers to show how they bonded each other. Bergamo closes eyes as he asleep on giant wolf's pecs while Valor holding him with his strong arm as he too fell asleep as well.

-The End-
