

The wolves had started to date the people that in the future they will marry, from the last season in the same passion and movement in their relationships just like Amber and Artemis, Kage and Akira and Dakota and Justin.

Neither do these teenage wolves know that they found either their king or queen, when they were a teenager.