

So a few days after Dudley had moved into the castle ghostly shenanigans had started to happen, just pure paranormal chaos had happened that chased the moonstone family out of it.

This ghost of sorts was magic powered in which Solaris and Artemis used both of their powers to fight it, it bounced back the magic right back at them.

The ghost was so strong that it destroyed some of the castle which luckily the gaia temple there was not damaged nor was the crystal.

Lastly the moonstone family with Dudley had retreated to Queen Moonstone's parents home with not much other than the clothes on their backs because of the dangerous ghost.

"I think i know what to do" Dudley had said to himself and at night time he put his plan into action by sneaking out. Artemis and Solaris also following him because they were wondering on what he was going to do, as the two brothers followed Dudley into the night.
