

Jasper Moonstone long regarded to be the runt of the family had finally hit his growth spurt, in which to an ego minded teenager this meant that he was being a bit of a dick to his older brothers.

It was getting kinda bad as both Solaris Artemis and Jupiter had some bruises and a shiner on Artemis's left eye the same one he got again. Victor, noticing the way that his best friends and best friends' brother had looked, he was going to teach the (now 6'5) wolf a lesson.

What Victor did is that he rough housed with him pretty badly in which Jasper immediately mellowed out and calmed down.

Neither did the male moonstone siblings know that Jasper was scared of Victor as he was a really strong strength wolf rivaling his older brother.
