

It is Now December of 2020, which means on Gaia hardcore snow all across the planet, and the Ice Kingdom becoming a literal winter wonderland where skiers both on and off planet go there to ride the slopes.

Once the snow had landed on the ground the wolves had met up in Opal city to have a fun snow day at Moonstone castle, in your standard wholesome part of a story.

Bohdi being an ice wolf meant that he is going to have a field day in which he created a giant snowman, before Magma and Dakota burned it to melt as it created a small wave that got him wet.

This started a snowball fight, and a friendly one among best friends, and once they were getting cold they went inside to get some hot coco and wolf cookies