

So during Amber's Christmas Vacation she went to Gaia for a week when it wasn't snowing to the Opal City Ice Rink.

"I haven't been ice skating since I was little, this is going to be a throwback," Amber told Artemis as he had the biggest smile on his face.

They got some skates and started skating around, Artemis had learned how to ice skate from Bodhi, while Amber was keeping up she was really rusty.

The two did do a couples skating thing and had fun for a few hours but Amber was starting to get a bit cold and shivering a bit and it was then that they sat down at a bench outside the rink to warm up,

Artemis had opened up his jacket as Amber looked concerned for him

"W-what about y-you?"

"Don't worry.." He blushed a bit hard "my I-love for you will keep me warm

She had crawled inside his jacket as she held onto him as he wrapped the jaket around her as the two both blushed.
