

So to have a change of scenery the Extended moonstone family had left their homeworld for a week to Earth and to Jupiter City so that they can have a break from Gaia's snow and colder temperatures.

The family had rented out a lodge for a week in which they had a lot of fun as they didn't leave the planet much.

Amber also had met some of Artemis's extended family members that she had the chance to meet including his grandparents and first cousins.