

The wolves had headed back to their old temple for old times sake, and all the adventures and other things that had happened when they were here and how season one felt like it was yesterday.

The wolves had eaten some food that they brought, and went to the hot spring bath house and spent the night back in their old rooms.