

So the wolves had chose to have another beast fight tournament after the last one was ruined, but this time their siblings and other wolves had participated to have another free for all 2 on 2 tournament for many people to be eliminated before the main 12 members of the wolves remained and once the fighting was over and beating his brother Solaris had ended up on top and won the whole thing.

"I am so happy for you bro... " Artemis was helped to his feet by Solaris and he was helped to the locker room with the others and Solaris had gotten a trophy for winning but had given it to Artemis as a fair deal after the way he had treated him growing up.