

The background behind the main characters of this story is that they all are on Summer break and the story starts on the second of June 2017.

The location of this story is a small town in Florida called diamond lake, a quiet town next to the crystal clear diamond lake in central florida.

Another thing is that the main characters of this story know each other and Cole is the main protagonist for this story who happens to come from old money but just never acts like it.