

Under the direction of Leo the team had agreed to train again after nearly losing last time.

However it was stressful this time around as the near fail of last time was looming over their heads.

And it wasn't until Cole yet again learned that emotions can also be key in performing some different attack spells.

His frustration had manifested in more powerful dark spells and such, where the others quickly noticed and picked up on using that to fight when in a pickle.

It was also then noted Cole's impact on the group, not only as a magic timeline protagonist but just how he can help others cheer up non verbally.