

The Grand finale consisted of everyone having their low moments, before their powers had reawakened and their necklaces were fixed.

And the team single handedly took down all of the crystal monsters that were coming out of the hole where the crystal in that out of place cave was.

And so once the battle was over the team celebrated as they still had access to their normal powers meaning that one day something similar could happen again but not so soon.

Lastly, the team grows up and enjoy the rest of their summer break with their new fancy necklaces dear treasures of those adventures they had gone one back in the summer of 2017.

Even to this day they still wear them and occasionally meet up for coffee and video games.

-The Defenders of Crystal, Story End.