

The Year is 2018, And this story takes place in New Jersey in the city of Vincent View City a modern rich city, with Belleview high a modern like high school with half rich kids and half normal kids with Grant village to the east of it.

The Protagonist of the story, Is George Barnett, he is a Very Skinny red fox, with his neck length hair that covers one of his blue eyes, he keeps his hair well groomed and clean.

His backstory is that After losing his mother he grew up to be a very lonely kid as he is an only child of his single rich father, he is indifferent about life or death and grew to be numb about death he is the heir to the Barnett Technology company once he finishes up at school so his father can retire.

He is Very Smart (rivaling Edward) and Handsome and is very stoic seemingly on the outside, but is a very pessimist and brooding personality with his only motivation being to take the company from his father and is a loner.

George had been moved into the Belleview dorms of the high school, under directions of his father he walked into the room he would be staying in as it was empty as no one had been moved into his room yet.

George had then moved in properly and sighed as he flopped on one of the empty beds.