

So during the day Brian had encountered a new girl, living in the room right across from his in the dorm building, her name was Alexandira Hart, a deer girl a year younger than him being a bit soft spoken girl but very social.

After some time throughout the week and later on the month Brian and Alexandria would become good friends laughing and having fun with each other.

"Hey Alexandria!"

"Oh hey Bryce what's up?"

Two things had gone through Brian's head, 1 that he had developed a crush on this girl and that he noticed that he would be competing for her love with Bryce, this smug preppy deer the same age as him.

The way that this infatuation problem had gotten more worse is that Alexandria had constantly confused Bryce and Brian's names which sort of made it worse when the two boys had realized that the two were chasing after the same girl.

Brian would also become closer to another girl in passing Eva Darkheart the as aforementioned niece of Kage Darkheart, but known to him Eva was slowly crushing on Brian as he was clueless enough to not notice it.

This love triangle sort of mirrors Artemis's original lover and Amber's original lover over 10 years ago, but under different circumstances.
