

About 4 hours later with the fight with the Darkheart sisters, Brian was feeling really out of it still and when it was about night time 8pm opal city standard time he had the idea to heal himself.

To his surprise his self heal worked, but then he had another idea to heal the scar he had gotten many years ago.

First he pulled his hair back, cranked up his healing to eleven and gently placed it on his eye. It hurt like hell but once he took the hand off his eye was fully healed.

He was also given the reason now to change his look so he grabbed a pair of scissors and a razor blade to give himself a new hairstyle without a bang covering his eye.

After cleaning up he went to sleep and during the video call with his brothers he showed off his new fully healed eye, and during breakfast he showed his roommates what he did as well. Throughout the next day people noticed that Brian's eye was somehow healed, Alexandria had also noticed it as well.

Even though Brian was given a reason to feel happy he still really wasn't on the inside, unsure if it was because of the hit he got or something else.
