

Brian overnight had taken control and Darius was trapped in a mental prison within Brian's mind as Darius swore like a sailor over that.

During the weekly Magic practice Brian had then awakened to another part of his magic and had finally unlocked his beast form.

Brian's massive overflow of magic created a small magic forest as he summoned the beast form of his own.

Brian's beast form is a Mega-Treehouse with this time rose petals and cherry blossom petals also falling around it.

The other guardians of magic with the Kings of Gaia were also shocked and surprised by this.

"That wasn't the only thing I learned about my seed-bomb barrage!"

The Mega-Treehouse then started to grow large explosive seed-bombs onto a dummy target in the practice grounds.

The explosion had sent a bunch of flower petals into the air and across the castle that flowed into Opal city.

Darius seeing through Brian's eyes was fuming over this but really could not do much as the magic that was flowing was shielding Brian from being taken control of.
