

Artemis had then created vines to subdue Brian/Darius so he could not move and had taken away his beast bracelet.

"Sorry Brian but this is for your own Good!"

Artemis had then created a big spell circle dark green just like his aura color before performing a powerful healing spell on Brian.

What happened after that was this- a red looking aura was ripped out of Brian and had manifested into Darius's physical body forming exactly like a twin copy of Brian just with the sharper horns, but with one green eye and one red eye.

Brian was knocked out but Darius wasn't as he took a breath of air with his own lungs for the first time as he looked around him at the shocked monarchs and college kids.

"Um.. I can explain" Darius had said, starting to shake from fear as Eva rushed to Brian as everyone else had rushed to his side.