

At opal city Stadium, the biggest one in the whole planet of Gaia where everyone was gathered, the opening ceremony and the opening act was going to be broadcasted as well.

Justin Opal the ceo of the Beast fighting corporation had walked out onto the turf of the stadium as the crowd cheered on.

"Hello people of Opal City! It is I Justin Opal the CEO of the Beast fighting corporation and I'm proud to announce this year's beast fighting tournament, and now I invite both the major and minor league beast leaders to show themselves!"

On the visiting side the minor league beast leaders the kings of the newer kingdoms with Dudley and Dakota on that side.

Then on the home side it was the major league beast leaders with Artemis being in front of the other kings as he was the de facto beast champion following after his father.

Then once the beast leaders had been seated on the turf in makeshift thrones, it was time for the opening act, Solaris had made his return and halfway during the act Artemis had hopped in for a duet of sorts for old times sake.

After the act the combatants of the tournament were shown as it was the Elmwood brothers with Darius as well joining with the guardians of magic and their minor league counterparts as well.