

The three heroes had started to adventure around the first Desert Labyrinth but quickly get swarmed by monsters and had to leave.

However when all seemed lost and bleak the three were knocked down by monsters but then got teleported away somehow.

Soon in the hub of the time realm Theodore was standing there a bit confused on what he did.

"But how did you-"

"I... felt a calling to save you three..."

Theodore had explained that he had been exploring the time realm and had was hiding within it after he sort of followed the three into the realm to begin with.

"Sorry... I should have said something sooner..."

"Well..Later is better than never it appears that you did save our butts" Lucas had shook his hand.

"Thanks... now maybe later on we can regroup and explore this place"