

When the team had unlocked the 8th door to the next Labyrinth, they were ready to kick any boss monster's butt.

"W-wait...."

"everyone... I'm not sensing a time monster boss here..."

Theo had continued to speak.

"It appears this place runs about 11 floors deep.. but there is a time stone here..."

After a while the labyrinth had shown the pasts of everyone on its many floors, even though this "history" themed labyrinth seemed intimidating but it wasn't.

Lucas had then picked up the 12th stone that was on a pedestal.

"I guess.. that's all 12?"

Lucas was holding the last stone as everyone had shrugged it off.

"but... maybe just maybe.. this might lead to a clue on where steven is..."
