

Amber and Artemis can be seen in Amber's bedroom after school one day and it was clear that Amber had a bad day. When Artemis asked her what was wrong, she said it was nothing and brushed him off.

"Hey do you want me to leave?, because you seem to be in a bad mood..."

"Why do you want to leave?"

"Because it's kinda clear that you aren't in the best of moods.."

Artemis sensed that something was wrong and wanted to remove himself from the situation, so that Amber could just have some time to calm down.

"You are right about that..."

Artemis looking at her got up and left, and then once he got back into the temple got a phone call from Amber.

"You know you could have asked me what was wrong Onyx"

"How was i supposed to know when i asked you what was wrong you never told me!"

Amber and Artemis got into a fight all over Amber not communicating on what was wrong after being passive aggressive to Artemis after he asked her what was wrong.

He hung up and went to his room and flopped on his bed. Amber was mad but broke down crying out of frustration from her bad day.
