

So Colton had made up with his parents and siblings, for the disappearing act he did during march of 2020, and that he is learning on how to not put holes in concrete walls when he gets annoyed.

Lastly he is going to work to be a bit more expressive than the monotone voice he has most of the time.